Thy God Wants an Honest and Fair World

Based on New Ten Commandments for the New World

William C. Boogaart

© 2026

Written by William C. Boogaart

Thy God Wants an Honest and Fair World
Based on the New Ten Commandments for the New World

© 2026 Version 2.0

E-mail: messenger@godsworld.online

The book was created using free and open-source software:

- LibreOffice – typesetting
- Windows 11 – operating system
- Book Template LibreOffice Krkavec
- PT Serif – font family

ISBN xxx-x-xx-xxxxxx-0

From March 16, 2021, The author heard the Voice of I Am Who I Am in his mind and heart. That although he is not religious. I Am Who I Am has sent the author messages in his mind and asked the author to publish them. The author did publish the messages on https://godsworld.online. From January 1, 2026 I Am Who I Am called the author the Observer and the Messenger. From June 21 2026, The One, I Am Who I Am, called the author the Prophet William, with the first task to sent the messages about the New Ten Commandments for the New World to all heads of state of all countries and to all religious leaders. The second task is to inform the public about the reset of time and Principles.

Contents

A New Ark of Covenant....3
The Great Reset....6
- The Origin of Demons....9
- Democracy Overcomes Demons....12
- About Life to Death....14
- Humans Create Hell....17
- Resurrection Souls is Done....19
- Idols will be Erased....22
- The Revelation Prophecy is Now....24
- The End of Days....27
- New Ten Commands Summary....35

The New Ten Commandments....38
- 1. I Am Who I Am, thy God....41
- 2. You shall not worship idols....47
- 3. You shall not make an object of Me....50
- 4. I Am all around you, have Faith....52
- 5. Respect every other human being....56
- 6. You shall not murder....60
- 7. You shall not abuse....64
- 8. You shall not steal....68
- 9. You shall not lie or bear false witness....70
- 10. You shall not enslave or be enslaved....73

The Spiritual World....77
- The Spirit of thy God....77
- The Creation of Time....78
- Creating Energy and Objects....80
- Naming Objects....82
- The Concept of Place....83
- Thy God has no Gender....84
- I Am Who I Am Loves Marriage....86

The Physical World.....91
Live Your Life Happy.....91
The Tree of Good and Evil.....94
Respect Yourself.....97
Tell Truth or Be Silent.....99
Humans Create Evil.....100
Prepare for the Afterlife.....101
Covenant with Israel.....103
Jesus the Son of Mary.....105
Mary Magdalene, the Wife of Jesus.....108
The End of Days.....110
Thy God wants Democracy.....113
The Universal Declaration of Democracy.....116
The Cancer of Communism.....120
The Revelation Prophecy is Now.....123
I Am Who I Am Loves Marriage.....126
On Private or Collective Sin.....131
Ask for Miracles. Have Faith.....134
About Life to Death.....137
Abandon Evil.....141
Thy God Created The Earth.....142
Have Faith.....144
That is all that matters.....144

In Christian and biblical eschatology, the 'end times' are preceded by a series of global, spiritual, and geopolitical signs, as described in texts such as Matthew 24, the Book of Daniel, and Revelation. Key events and signs that precede the end times include:

• Large-scale regional and global wars.

• Widespread food shortages, famine, and severe waves of disease.

• An increasing frequency and intensity of earthquakes and ecological crises.

• Growing societal moral lawlessness, religious deception, and the persecution of believers.

• The rise of the Antichrist—the emergence of a global political leader who establishes a peace covenant involving Israel, only to later evolve into a global dictator during a turbulent period.

• A seven-year period of unprecedented global distress, characterized by severe divine and apocalyptic judgments (often categorized into seals, trumpets, and bowls).

• Cosmic disturbances in the final phase, including the darkening of the sun and moon and the shaking of the heavenly powers.

The end times do not signify the end of the world or of humanity; rather, a new world dawns. This new world is founded upon several principles:
1: God comes for those who believe.
2: The State of Israel will be restored.
3: The identity of the Antichrist will be revealed, and the world will ultimately silence him.
4: God will judge the nations based on their faith. God will separate the nations from one another, just as a shepherd separates the sheep from the goats.
5: A thousand-year kingdom (millennium) will be established on earth.

This book contains messages given by "I Am Who I Am" to the author in the New World. These messages served as a journey of discovery toward faith, hope, and love. Beginning on March 16, 2021, the author —who is not a religious person— began to hear the Voice of "I Am Who I Am" within his thoughts. "I Am Who I Am" provided messages and requested that they be published; the author has done so. This book is the ultimate result of those messages from "I Am Who I Am." The purpose of God's World is for people to believe, to shape their lives, to live happily, and to attain enlightenment. Nothing more, nothing less.

A New Ark of Covenant

I Am Who I Am gives Israel and the World a new Ark of the Covenant. This in order to protect Israel and the world from the evil demons. And to build a world without fear, without demons and without war. The Ark of the Covenant was the resting place for the Ten Commandments given by I Am Who I Am to Moses. A New Ten Commandments have been written in this book. This book will be the Ark of the Covenant for the future. Please spread the Word to all people in the world. Then every human will have an Ark of the Covenant. The New Ten Commandments shall be on the wall of any school, organization and in any parliament.

The Ark of the Covenant has been lost for ages. The Ark was last mentioned in biblical and historical records around 586 BC. This was when Babylonian armies conquered Jerusalem and destroyed Solomon's First Temple. The official records from the time do not list the Ark among the stolen temple treasures, leaving its true fate unknown. The Ethiopian Orthodox Church maintains that the real Ark rests in Aksum, guarded by a single virgin monk. Ancient texts suggest King Josiah or prophets hid the Ark beneath the Temple Mount before the invasion. Legends claim the prophet Jeremiah hid the Ark in a cave on Mount Nebo.

Humans think the object, the wooden box plated with gold is the object which gives the Divine power to the world. It is not. The Ark of the Covenant was the resting place for the Ten Commandments given by I Am Who I Am to Moses.

It is not the wooden box which carries the heavenly power. The Divine Power is the Ten Commandments written by I Am Who I Am on stones within the Ark of the Covenant.

I Am Who I Am asks you to spread the Word. We ask your help to publish book in English, Hebrew and Arabic. The purpose of I Am Who I Am, The One, is that every individual, of any religion, can read this book in their own language. For this reason the website which contains the contents of the book https://godsworld.online/ can be translated in all languages of the world. The book shall be the foundation of a lesson in any school. The New Ten Commandments apply to all people in the world, religious or not.

This message is the fulfillment of the promise to the Jews, Israel and the world. I Am Who I Am did not abandon Israel, did not abandon the world. At the end of the Jewish year 5786 the promise for an ever lasting covenant had been fulfilled now. I Am Who I Am says you shall start your year 5787 with the hope and faith for a future in which all people who inhibit Israel live together in peace and harmony.

From March 16, 2021, The author heard the Voice of I Am Who I Am in his mind. That although he is not religious. I Am Who I Am has sent the author messages and asked him to publish them. This is done in this book and on https://godsworld.online. First I Am Who I Am called the author the messenger. The messenger has experienced the years with the messages as a discovery voyage. From January 1, 2026 I Am Who I Am called the author the Observer and the Messenger. From June 21, The One, I Am Who I Am, called the author the Prophet William.

The first task of prophet William is to sent the messages about the New Ten Commandments for the New World to all heads of state and leaders of all countries and to all religious leaders.

Not all prophets know the future. The future is not decided. Sometimes there is a view of what might be. But humans have free will. A prophet knows some aspect of the human body and ways to live longer. But a human must decide themselves to change the lifestyle in order to get a longer life. A prophet may teach people of all religions the way to The Light. This is the second task of the Prophet.

A prophet does not do miracles. A miracle is not for free. Like Hezekiah you must throw out false gods and all of your addictions. You must set your body and mind free. And pray. Pray only to I Am Who I Am directly and increase your faith. Then a miracle may happen.

The Great Reset.

After 2000 years the Day of Judgment has come to a world full of antisemitism. The Day of Judgment is done. The End of Days has come now. From it a New World will emerge. I Am Who I Am is not limited by time, place, location, object, name, shape or gender. Humans are limited by time, place, location, object, name, shape and gender. Through history, from the limited thinking of humans, some misunderstandings have grown. We will explain the truth about the spirit and the human.

The Day of Judgment.

On October 7, 2023 when the Arabic refugees represented by the religious communist of the Hamas massacred more than 1200 Jews and took 254 Jews hostages, among them 12 Americans, the Day of Judgment started. By the communist mass media, the communist United Nations and the communist European Union the antisemitism has spread to a world wide level. This is a horror for The One.

Israel defended itself in a proportional way, but Hamas used civilians and civilian properties as a shield. The religious communist do not care about a human life, they steal the properties of those who do not agree with them and lie and cheat about the truth.

The religious communist do not care about the Ten Commandments. God will judge the unbelievers who had spread the antisemitism and the lies about Israel. God has a covenant with Israel for eternity. The Arabic refugees do not understand this because they honor land above The One. Humans have create hell on earth.

After 1948 Israel has proposed several times to the Arabic refugees to be part of a democratic Israel. As a result the Arabic refugees started a war after war with many Arabic civilian deaths. It was clear Hamas, Hezbollah and the Houties are a proxy of the religious communism of Iran. In Iran 3 million Arabic speaking Muslims have created a dictatorship and kill many of the 90 million Persians. This is a horror for the Persians. Shame on you.

Muslims today have a heart of violence, murder and antisemitism. The Day of Judgment is done, repent or you shall be Judged by The One. From now on the Law of God shall be the Ten Commandments for the New World and shall be for all of the people in the world. Israel and the US have demolished Gaza, the South of Lebanon and Iran. Israel and the US will build them again but all the people will have to go. They should be immigrants for the 22 Arabic states. All of the religious communist shall be defeated and disarmed. The Arabic refugees shall bent their head and kneel before The One.

I Am Who I Am has watched the war with the religious communist of Iran. The religious communists of Iran and their proxies Hamas, Hezbollah and the Houties have started a war with The One because they know I have a covenant with Israel forever. Now the Angel of Death of The One is above the Arabic speaking Muslims in Iran, Gaza and Lebanon. It may be day, it may be night, death will come to the selfish arrogant religious communists.

I Am Who I Am has an obligation to the Persians. King Cyrus the Great of Persia ended the Babylonian Exile in 538 BC by issuing a royal decree that freed the Jewish people, allowed them to return to the Land of Israel, and ordered the rebuilding of the Second Temple in Jerusalem.

The One has an everlasting covenant with Israel. The Angel of Death of The One will not interfere when peace with Iran is reached with the immediate and full withdrawal from office of the Arabic speaking Muslims. They must hand over their weapons to the Persians.The Persians must install a democracy and give justice to the horror Arabs who have tried to uplift the ayatollahs. From now on Iran will be called Persia again and their civilians to be called Persians with their language Farsi to be the main language.

The Origin of Demons.

The truth about demons has been faded out. In many modern traditions, the origin stories of demons have been heavily obscured or altogether forgotten by the general public. Depending on the culture or philosophy, “demon” is often treated as an umbrella term for various spiritual forces, psychological phenomena, or dark symbolic concepts.

I Am Who I Am is The One, a non divided Spirit. The origin of a demon is not from the Spiritual realm. A demon is a human who is uplifted by other humans in order to bring dictatorship, death, war and chaos. Today the ayatollah of Iran is a demon who aims for concurring the world.

Demons are not divine. Various belief systems offer different theories on their beginnings. A prominent viewpoint in Western theology asserts that demons were originally divine, intelligent angelic beings who rebelled and were cast out of heaven. Ancient Jewish texts and traditions often describe demons as the wandering, disembodied spirits of the Nephilim—the monstrous offspring of fallen angels and humans. Some esoteric and cultural philosophies suggest that demons were once cruel or deeply traumatized humans who, due to their unchecked darkness and lack of empathy in life.

Human thinking about demons is obscured. From a secular or anthropological perspective, the concept of demons may have originally emerged from humanity's attempt to explain the unknown, such as severe mental illnesses or inexplicable natural disasters.

In thousands of years the characteristics of a demon are always the same. The history clearly is written from the viewpoint of demons. A demon is a traumatized human who aims for dictatorship and anything opposed to the Commands thy God has given. A demon shall lie, cheat, steal, abuse and kill in order to gain dictatorship.

A demon always is antisemitic. And against the people who live according the Commands of thy God. A demon says the people who uplift them are far better than the other people. The uplifted people shall rule the region, the country, the continent or the world. The demon always is uplifted by the media who do not tell what happens, but what benefits the demon. Demons deny the liberty, the freedoms and the equality of all people, instead they want other people to be enslaved.

An example of a demon in recent history is Adolf Hitler. This completely crazy Nazi fascist is a true example of a demon. Hitler was traumatized when the rulers put him in prison. He wrote "Mein Kampf" which was the ideology of a demon. He wanted to be the true German people to rule the world.

Hitler was uplifted by the German public media who transformed him to be their ruler. Hitler killed six millions Jews, many gay people and Roma people. At the end Hitler killed himself. Death is the future of a demon.

The special operation from President Putin of the Russian Federation is an action of a demon. Greed and prejudice has been the motivation to invade Ukraine and start the war of Russia with Ukraine. The dictatorship of President Putin has evolved in killing a million of young Russian men and many young Ukraine men. President Putin has stolen the Crimea and the Donbas area. President Putin thinks he is a god, he is not. President Putin is uplifted by Kirill, the greedy Orthodox Christian patriarch. The Russian media does not dare to say what is really happening. All are the characteristics of the demon Putin.

Today the religious communism of Iran has nothing to do with thy God. the ayatollahs of Iran were transformed into a demon. They were uplifted by the extreme left media in which journalists are a member of Associated Press. They do not tell the truth of what happens, but they tell what benefits the ayatollah demons. The mass media mentions the war caused by Hamas to be the Israel Hamas war, framing Israel started it. The Iran ayatollah demon uses lies, theft, killing and slavery to enhance the ayatollah demon.

This war with this demon cannot be won with negotiation. It can only be won with strong force.

Democracy Overcomes Demons.

Youngsters should honor democracy. Nowadays, there is a tendency among young people to follow the teachings of demons ad enslave themselves in their emotion. Young people are fed up with the corrupt power game of supranational organizations. Young people seek God and want to change the world. Young people want to build a life, buy or rent a house, and start a family. But they see that governments favor immigrants. Young people cannot build a normal life.

Today demons are in the center of the world. The communist media reinforce and fuel the demons by spreading antisemitic messages and proclaiming demonic propaganda and get rich of it. Governments of democratic countries are unable to bring security and prosperity. The human soul falls into darkness by following demons. All followers of demons die in darkness, and their souls will perish.

The demons of today are the Nazis, the Islamists, and the communists. The demons all share the same characteristics. Selfishness, not telling the truth, lying and deceiving to expand their influence.

And favoring immigrants. Jews, LGBTQ+ people, and people with disabilities they want to kill. Demons think that they are better people than others. Demons motivated man think woman are less than man and marry children. Demon motivated man abuse and control woman. They steal or want to steal to obtain expensive items. Arm themselves. Murder when they have power. Develop a country into a dictatorship.

Your God wants people to develop their souls in happiness. To achieve this, all people must know and observe the Ten Commandments. Act according the Ten Commandments will grant you eternal life. After death, the soul is elevated from the limited body and added to the unlimited spiritual world of God. It is The One, thou God who judges your soul. There is no angel of death who checks your soul on the scale of good and evil.

Democracy will overcome the demons. But democratic countries must uphold democracy through certain rules. Governments must embody equality and freedoms. Freedoms must be limited so as not to promote hatred, violence, and war. No citizen may carry weapons without a permit.

Many Immigrants glorify inequality, hatred, violence, and war. Immigrants are selfish people. Every country must limit immigration. Just as in a cult, young people who follow a demonic cult.

And are brainwashed with false truths and a wrong cult. This can only be undone through severe psychiatric treatment and brainwashing back to the truth and adherence to the Ten Commandments. The young people must realize that they cannot start a family in a democratic society if they do not subscribe to normal democratic values.

About Life to Death.

I Am Who I Am, The One, the spiritual world, has no limits. There are no limits in time, name, place, languages, gender, shape or objects. Living humans need and are limited by time, name, place, languages, gender, shape and objects. This is the basic principle and the difference between life of a human and their death. Human life is limited. With death a soul is in the unlimited realm of the spiritual world.

Biologically, human life begins at fertilization. The conception starts when a sperm and egg fuse to form a unique, single-celled zygote, while social, legal, and cultural definitions of a human person vary widely from implantation to birth.

Spiritually a human life starts when a new human is born. At birth the new human, a girl or a boy is given a soul. The birth ends the formation stage of a human being. The formation of a human starts when a male sperm fertilizes a female egg. From birth the human grows to completion from an infant to a toddler, to an adolescent to an adult. Above 65 years an adult enters the old age. Normally from the old age an adult will reach the end of life.

I Am Who I Am loves marriage. If a man makes a female pregnant the man should leave the parents house and marry the female. Marriage is not only for a man and a woman. The human chooses their partners for life themselves. In marriage the parents are responsible for their child during their lifespan. Adults who feel fulfilled by their lives, either through a successful family or a meaningful career or otherwise reach ego integrity, in which they can face aging and dying with peace. If older adults don't feel that they've lived a good life, they risk falling into despair.

When a human experiences the end of life, the soul discovers the spiritual world. All humans have a biological life with a limited time, we call this the human lifespan. A human dies by age, by illness, by medicine, by themselves or by another human being. The death by another human being is murder, no mater it is with a gun, a car, medicine or any other means. There is no difference in choosing your own end of life or enduring pain towards the end of life.

When a human dies, the soul discovers the spiritual world which has no limits. The human soul of a death body is free of limits. A human soul who is killed by another human being is free of place, time and location. The human soul of a dead body can connect to another human. anywhere on this earth in order to solve the crime which stopped their lifespan. The soul works on the mind and heart of other human beings. Normally the place of a soul is near the death body. A soul is embraces by the spiritual world and does not have a name and no gender anymore. A soul does not need objects like money.

The soul of a death human enters The Light or vanishes into darkness. A soul notices the body died. When the body is buried, cremated, decomposed to give the organs to a living human or otherwise, the soul leaves the body. When the soul has grown to enlightenment by having faith in The One and by keeping the New Ten Commandments the soul may enter the Light of peace, happiness end well being. When the soul does not recognize The Light because of a selfish life and not having faith the soul will fade out into darkness.

Incomplete enlighted souls will act as guardian angels. A soul may not be ready to enter The Light and may not be touched by darkness. Then the soul helps living people to the path of enlightenment and protects the people.

This may take a thousand years but for the soul in the spiritual world time is without limit. The guardian angel may show themselves as your parent, because their shape is unlimited. The guardians knows it has no gender but may help living people with their connection to other humans.

Dark souls without faith of death humans fade away into darkness. Dark souls who do not have faith in The One want to be memorized in history. From the New World the dark spirits no longer have a soul. Humans with a dark soul use statues, media and the written history to be remembered. A dark spirit may be uplifted to a demon. A demon uses speech and images to get followers. At the burial of a demon the followers express their hate, use evil mechanism to worship the demon and shout their wish to murder faith. A demon creates hell.

Humans Create Hell.

God didn't create hell, humans do and did. Humans create their own hell through choices or separation from God, reflects diverse theological views, with many Christian perspectives suggesting hell was originally for Satan and fallen angels (Matthew 25:41) but humans end up there by rejecting God's grace and salvation. Making it a state of eternal separation from divine love and goodness.

Often linked to free will and the consequence of sin. Rather than God directly creating a punitive place for people initially. God did not create hell, humans do. Judgment Day started with the Hamas terrorist genocide of October 7, 2023. The UN and the EU facilitated the massacre against the Jews. Now the world is divided in people who support terrorism and antisemitism and those who want to live according to the Commands I Am Who I Am has given. Now God's General Judgment will be at hand. The Earth is crumbling, many volcanoes are awaken. Warlords will perish and those who make their own commands of good and evil will be judged. The Earth and Nature gave life and now they will take life. Antisemitism create hell.

Judgment Day is Done. The world has been separated into antisemitics and believers. With the identity policy of the United Nations (UN) the Antichrist has come. The Antichrist is not a person, it are the humans who worship the identity policy. The goal of the communistic UN and the EU is to establish a global dictatorship. I Am Who I Am interferes. The Earth shakes and crumbles. Countries and Continents will split. The End of Days has come.

Today warlords kill millions of people, destroy their property and steel their assets. Those warlords and war priests are multi mass murderers. A mass murderer will face the death penalty in many countries.

Are the warlords above the law? The conflict between Israel and the Islamist Arabs shows the right strategy. The life of a warlords is less than the life of thousands of people. Israel has won the war against the Arabs and the Persian terrorism. Now we see the strategy of Israel, to kill the warlords of Hamas, Iran and Hezbollah shows to be working.

Hezbollah is finished, Iran is weakened and Hamas in Gaza will be disarmed and displaced. This is the way to end the wars and special actions of the lying warlords. At these End of Days, the warlords and war priests who kill millions of people will face their Creator.

Resurrection Souls is Done.

A new world will come.

The Resurrection of the souls is Done. The resurrection of the dead is the belief that people are brought back to life after their stars at the end of time. This idea is found in major religions such as Judaism, Christianity, and Islam, and forms a core point of the hope for a new life with God. There will be no end of time. There will be a reset of time into a New World. A human is born with a sin-free soul. The human develops the soul through hope, faith, love, and adherence to the Ten Commandments.

It is I Am Who I Am that judges the human soul at the end of life. An enlightened soul is destined to enter the Light of Heaven. A soul who was not honest, did not love, had no hope, had no faith en was selfish fades out into darkness. A black soul remains with the body at death. At the burial, the soul of the human spirit feels the detachment. The body decays. There will no resurrection of the dead body. This is not possible due to the laws of the physical world. With cremation, the detachment of the soul occurs immediately. The souls who did not enter The Light will act as guardian angels.

In 2026 the murmuring of the death humans stopped. Some people hear the voices of the spiritual world. The spiritual world of those humans who are death and those who are in The Light. Those people heard some murmuring when they pass a graveyard. In 2026 the murmuring was gone. Indicating the resurrection of the souls has been done. From 2021 I Am Who I Am is back. The resurrection of the souls who remained with the body has been done now. The souls of the death who have done their duty in helping the living people are transcended into the Light of Heaven. The souls who remained selfish are faded out into darkness. The Day of Judgment started at October 7, 2023. The world then became divided into Anti-Semites and people who were not.

The United Nations became the Antichrist promoting Anti-Antisemitism. We live now in a divided world. The Antichrist will be overcome by the truth about the spiritual and physical world. There will be no end of time. There will be a reset of the civilization. A reset of the way humans think about I Am Who I Am, the spiritual world and the physical world. I Am Who I Am, The One, thy God, is one, not limited by time, name, place, shape, language, gender or objects. Humans are limited by time, name, place, shape, language, gender and objects. Humans have a connection with The One through their mind and heart. There will be a New World. A New World in which humans are living together and respect The One and all other human beings. Honest Democracy is the what God wants people to live in. The countries of the world will be honest and democratic. Every human has free will. In living together do not dictate or interfere with the timeline of another human being. There will be a new morality. Today many religions aim to control their members and dictate them what was written in human made books thousands of years ago. The new morality now will be to teach members honesty, love, hope and faith.
I Am Who I Am considers all humans to be equal. Woman are equal to man. In order to develop your soul to be ready for The Light honesty, faith, love and hope are the topics.

Not purity, obedience, control and knowing the Book. All members of a religion have the right to find a connection with I Am Who I Am.

All members of a religion or those who do not have a religion may switch to another. Find a connection with I Am Who I Am. The connection can be found directly or in praying to Jesus or any other Prophet. In history there were prophets and today and in the future there again will be prophets. A Prophet is a human, it may be a man or a woman, who hears the Voice of I Am Who I Am, who hears the Voice of The One. A Prophet has some hints for the future, a prophet does not know the future. But a prophet clearly may see the development of humans.

Idols will be Erased.

Today humans worships many idols. The communist mass media do not speak the truth but embrace antisemitic propaganda. Scientist preach a false dictate that the world will perish with the burning of fossil fuel. The religious communist of Gaza are worshiped by extreme left victimizing and favoritism. All the idols will be erased by the truth.

Nature dictates the climate. The underwater eruption in the South Pacific Ocean of the Hunga Tonga volcano blasted an enormous plume of salt water vapor into the stratosphere which increased the water content with 10-15%. This increased the global average temperature. It is clear now the chemistry of the stratosphere changed.

The atmosphere was cleaned. Scientist did not acknowledge the climate change by nature. Why did we not hear the restore of nature from Greenpeace or the World Wildlife Fund? The climate change industry at the UN Climate Change Conference (COP29) in Baku, Azerbaijan on 12 November 2024. wants 1.000 billion dollar from the world. It is futile. The UN and the mass media do not tell the truth about the climate. The media, scientists, activists and the UN do not tell about the nature restoring itself. The models do not represent the reality. The climate acts by the intervention of nature by thy God.

The fossil fuel transition dictate is erased. The system used with solar cells and wind turbines without a home battery had let to a blackout. The electricity grid turned to be full. Elon Musk designed a transition to electricity with solar panels, a home battery and an electric car. This Musk transition should be honored. There is enough fossil fuel stock known for centuries. The known stock of oil and gas will be enough for 50 years. The coal and uranium for hundreds of years. So the chaos created by communist activist to stop the fossil fuel usage is for idiots.

Religions dictate the submissive position of woman. Stop that. God considers a woman to be equal to a man. In faith every human is equal. Any religion or political system who suppresses the woman, shall be left. A human has free will. All are free to join an organization or to abandon. Children shall be protected. The woke gender dictate is ridiculous. God created a human a man or a woman. Nowadays the gender dictate is thought at the primary school. This creates uncertainty of the child growth. Abusing a child by a gender operation is a crime against humanity and against the Creation.

The Revelation Prophecy is Now.

The conclusion of the prophecy in the Book of Revelation is the ultimate victory over evil, the final judgment, and the creation of a renewed cosmos. The Revelation Prophecy speaks of the Lion and the Lamb. The Lamb opens the seven seals of the hidden scroll. With opening the seals some colored horses appear with which some phenomena in nature happen. The Lion will dominate the world and bring evil to their knees.

The loudly roaring Lion is President Trump. The silent Lamb the prophet who wrote this book. In the Revelation Prophecy the Lamb opens the seven seals, which are time, name, place, shape, language, gender or objects.

Consider the vision of the Messenger about the mistakes mankind made to not understand the characteristics of I Am Who I Am. I Am Who I Am is not limited by time, name, gender, place, location, shape or objects. Humans are limited by time, name, gender, place, location, shape and objects. These are seven characteristics and are the seven seals. Mankind must know its limitations. The seals are time, name, gender, place, location, shape and objects. We open the seals here and now. The Creation did not begin with the creation of the heavens and earth. It started with the creation of time. I Am Who I Am exists and has no name. Humans name everything do not do that with your God.

I Am Who I Am is not a big man in the sky. Thy God has no gender. A human is a male or a female. I Am Who I Am is everywhere. The location of I Am Who I Am is all around you, in everything. I Am Who I Am has no shape. I Am Who I Am is like air, you do not see thy God. I Am Who i Am is The One, the God is not separated into objects. The angels from the history are manifestations of The One for humans to understand the spiritual world.

How to recognize the Voice of thy God? The Voice speaks to you in your mind. It may be night. It may be day. Always the Voice speaks about aspects of the New Ten Commandments. The Voice never speaks to you in order to violate the New Ten Commandments. The Voice does not urge you to make idols, to murder, to steal, to abuse or to addict yourself or others. I Am Who I Am interferes when you worship idols.

What are called jinn are voices from the spiritual world. The Voice of I Am Who I Am or helping voices from not enlightened souls..
When people die who acted against the New Ten Commandments their soul remains on earth and may help the living people to reach enlightenment. Souls who are in darkness never reach enlightenment and will need human objects (money) but create hell by making idols, murder, abusing, or stealing.

By taking and opening the scroll's seals, the Lamb initiates the unfolding of God's final purposes and justice on earth. The purpose for mankind in this site is clear. A human receives a clear soul at birth. During his life the human soul grows to enlightenment by love, hope and faith. Faith in I Am Who I Am. And doing no actions against the New Ten Commandments.
The Revelation speaks about horses and their riders. Some events came forth in the past seven years in which the seals were opened.
The world had their world wide problems. The corona crisis from the red China started in 2019 and killed over 7 million people. The fooling of the US people with the presidential election 2020 in which people could vote without ID, white haired Joe Biden became President. The result was Russia Ukraine war and the Hamas massacre of Israel, and the worldwide antisemitism. The black war of Russia with Ukraine started in 2022 and killed almost 2 million people. The enormous gray volcano eruption at Hunga Tonga in 2022 with its stratosphere consequences in 2023 did not fall into the UN climate model.

The Lamb cannot place the opening of the seals directly to the world wide problems, because no record has been made when the seals were opened. The seals first were mentioned in headlines, later in detail.

The End of Days.

Thy God intervenes. Today's world is full of dishonesty, untruth and unfairness. In these end of days the human world and the earth shall be reset to truth, honesty and fairness. This will take a transition time, it will be done.

Truth

The public media and any person shall publish and speak the truth. The truth is not a dictate and it can be checked. Nowadays AI helps to check the truth, but it is not the truth and nothing but the truth. A message from a (religious) communist party is not a truth, it is propaganda because it is a dictate and cannot be checked. The public media and any person shall not speak or publish messages which are propaganda for antisemitism.

Honesty

A human child shall be educated by parents and school to be honest. Honesty or truthfulness is a facet of moral character that connotes positive and virtuous attributes such as integrity, truthfulness, straightforwardness (including straightforwardness of conduct, earnestness), along with the absence of lying and cheating. Honesty also involves being trustworthy, loyal, fair, and sincere. A reputation for honesty is denoted by terms.

Truth is the reputability and trustworthiness. Honesty about one's future conduct, loyalties, or commitments is called accountability, reliability, dependability, or conscientiousness. Someone who goes out of their way to tell possibly unwelcome truths extends honesty into the region of candor or frankness.

Fairness

Fairness is the quality of treating people in a way that is right and reasonable. People inherently value fairness and everyone has a sense of what it means to be fair. Fairness is also tied to the values of a society and culture such as the rights and freedoms that are afforded to each person. Fairness plays a fundamental role in justice, ethics, law, education, governance, relationships and social interaction.

Authority and power creates accountability. Being fair means taking responsibility for our actions and decisions. When rules are applied in a uniform manner it promotes trust, accountability and a sense of justice within a system or community. Consistent rule enforcement helps prevent victimizing favoritism, discrimination and confusion making outcomes more predictable and equitable. Fairness requires taking down barriers so that everyone can participate in society and life.

What is fair can change depending on the situation, circumstances or people involved. It isn't always about treating everyone exactly the same but about adjusting to different needs and circumstances to achieve a just outcome. True fairness allows individuals to question decisions, actions or systems that they believe are wrong or biased. Without this right, unfair treatment could go unaddressed and people would have no way to defend themselves or seek correction. Fairness avoids favoritism. No one should receive better or worse treatment based on personal relationships or status.

Only factors that directly relate to an issue should influence decisions. While people are free to make agreements, fairness requires that these agreements respect ethical standards, legal rules and social responsibilities. For example, technology companies can't bind customers to terms that are exploitative or discriminatory. Fair decisions, evaluations and actions are produced without favoritism, prejudice or undue influence. This is based on objective criteria not influenced by personal opinions, stereotypes or unjust advantages.

Fairness preserves individual rights and freedoms such as freedom of speech, freedom of movement, freedom of religion and the right to privacy.

Honest and accurate information is essential for making fair decisions. When people are truthful it ensures that perspectives and facts are considered without deception or bias. It is fair that people should be rewarded based on their efforts, skills and contributions rather than favoritism, connections or irrelevant factors such as identity or status. Fairness begins with the belief that individuals are generally honest, responsible and capable.

Rather than relying on strict control, suspicion or constant monitoring, fairness creates systems and relationships that give people the benefit of the doubt. Fairness clearly communicates what is expected in a particular situation. For example, a fair employer carefully documents the requirements of a job and how performance will be evaluated and acts by them.

Everyone has the right to keep certain aspects of their life private and fairness means not using or sharing that information without consent. Fairness cannot be maintained when mistakes are left unaddressed.

Liberty

In a fair society a human has liberty. A human has a free will. The free will shall not be encapsulated by economy, politics or religion. Liberty is the condition of being free from confinement, servitude, or forced labor. The condition of being free from oppressive restriction or control by a government or other power. The right or power to act as one chooses. Liberty is a deliberate departure from what is proper, accepted, or prudent. Liberty is a breach or overstepping of propriety or social convention.

Sexuality

A human is born from a man and a woman. The human child develops through the stages of a biological being, formation, growth completion and perfection. A child is born the formation. A child grows to a complete biological being and reaches perfection in order to find a mate.
And form a family. God has no gender. There is no sex in The Light. Sex is for humans. But God has some advice for humans concerning sex. Adults shall not have sex or marriage with children, this is pedophilia. A human adult has a free will to find a mate for a period in hers or his life. The woman can mate with a man, a woman can mate with a woman, a man can find a woman or a man can love a man. By the way, a sex worker has a normal job.

Thy God loves marriage of adults. Children should take care for contraception when having sex. Walking naked or being naked should be done by adults in private. Marriage can be one on one or one to more. In mating or marriage each partner should get the same attention.

Equality

Equality is the same status, rights, and responsibilities for all the members of a society, group, or family. Gender equality, also known as sexual equality or equality of the sexes, is the state of equal ease of access to resources and opportunities regardless of gender, including economic participation and decision-making, and the state of valuing different behaviors, aspirations, and needs equally, also regardless of gender.

Freedoms

Freedom is the power or right to speak, act, and change as one wants without hindrance or restraint. Freedom is often associated with liberty and autonomy in the sense of "giving oneself one's own laws". In its origin, the English word "freedom" relates etymologically to the word

"friend". Philosophy and religion sometimes associate it with free will, as an alternative to determinism or predestination.

Democracy

Democracy is a form of government in which political power is vested in the people, the adult citizens of a nation state. From 18 years a citizen is an adult. Under a minimalist definition of democracy, rulers are elected through competitive elections while more expansive or maximal definitions link democracy to guarantees of civil liberties and human rights in addition to competitive elections. In a direct democracy, the people have the direct authority to deliberate and decide legislation.

The democratic nation state is the center of the world wide democracy. In a democratic nation state one shall vote once. In this sense one shall ID themselves to vote once. Voting shall be on a person or on a person of a political party. In a democratic nation state religion shall be separated from politics. A democratic nation state shall have a constitution which resembles the liberty, freedoms and democracy.

In a democratic state the legislative power shall make laws and rules, the executive power shall maintain the laws and rules and the juridical power shall maintain the laws and rules. The constitution comes first, then the laws and rules of the democratic nation state and then the international treaties.

Many times the coalition formation after voting is difficult, takes too long and does not resemble the results of the voting. After voting the ministers of the execution power can be determined from numeration. If a parliament has 175 seats and there will be 25 ministers, the calculating number of ministers is 175 / 25 = 7. If a party has 15 seats they can have 17 / 7 = 2 ministers. This numeration will establish an honest coalition for the execution power. The juridical power will have a constitutional court. After the local and regional voting the people for the execution power can be determined from numeration to.

Revolution.

If the population of a nation sees their liberty, freedoms and democracy not to be according the writing here, a revolution may be used to establish the honesty and fair nation. If a democratic nation state is attacked by another army or terrorists, that nation can defend itself.

New Ten Commands Summary.

The New World needs New Ten Commandments which make the relation of thy God to humans clear. I Am Who I Am wants a picture of the New Ten Commands in every school, every house and every organization of the world. This educates children and adults about ethics, moral and the purpose for living.

1. I Am Who I Am, I Am That I Am, The One, thy God.
– The purpose of a human is to grow to Enlightenment.
– At birth a human is given a sin free soul by I Am.
– By keeping the Commandments a human soul grows,
– The soul of En-lighted dead human goes to The Light.

2. You shall not worship idols.
– You shall not worship objects of wood, stone or metal.
– You shall not worship a human living or dead,
– You shall not worship animals living or dead,
– You shall not worship a narrative dictate.

3. You shall not make an object of Me.
– Do not call Me Lord, because I am not limited by gender.
– Do not give Me a name, because I am not an object.
– In The Light there are no limits.
– Angels are a manifestation of Me.

4. I Am all around you, have Faith in Me.
– I Am is not limited by the sky. I Am is everywhere.
– I Am created time and am independent of time.
– In Faith all humans are Equal.
– Beware and do not follow False Prophets.

5. Respect every other human being.
– Humans have free will.
– Respect the human expression, if not foul,
– Respect the human speech if not false,
– Respect the end of life wish, done by themselves.

6. You shall not murder.
– Do not kill another human being,
– Everyone has the right to self-defense,
– Every democratic nation has the right to self-defense,
– The covenant with Israel shall be forever.

7. You shall not abuse.
– In The Light there is no gender, sex is for human adults.
– Adults shall not have sex with children,
– No human shall abuse another human for sex,
– A human can have a partner for life in marriage.

8. You shall not steal.
– If you have no food or drinks, ask for it, it will be given,
– Governments shall arrange a shelter, bread and water,
– Do not steal objects, it is not worth while,
– Public organizations shall not steal by taxes.

9. You shall not lie or bear false witness.
– Be honest to yourself and others,
– In marriage you should be honest to each other,
– In marriage humans shall fulfill their desire and lust,
– Marriage can be with multiple humans.

10. You shall not enslave or be enslaved.
– Do not be enslaved by any object,
– Do not enslave other humans,
– Do not enslave your body with a false lifestyle,
– Governments shall not agree with enslavement.

The New Ten Commandments.

The original commandments, as presented in the Bible, serve multiple purposes that are foundational to understanding God's relationship with humanity and the expectations for the chosen people. These divine instructions are primarily found in the Old Testament, particularly within the Pentateuch, and are reiterated and expanded upon in the New Testament. The commandments are not merely a set of rules but are deeply intertwined with the covenantal relationship between thy God and the people.

The commandments reveal the Holiness and Righteousness of God. They are a reflection of the character and the moral perfection of thy God. The commandments provide a framework for righteous living. They instruct believers on how to live in a way that is pleasing to thy God and beneficial to others.

The commandments are integral to the covenantal relationship between thy God and Israel. The commandments are the stipulations of this covenant, outlining the responsibilities of the Israelite’s as God's chosen people.

Now if you will indeed obey My voice and keep My covenant, you will be My treasured possession out of all the nations—for the whole earth is Mine. The New World will be honest and fair. People compete with each other and have conflicts. But whether it's a game of cards, businesses on Main Street, or an election, we expect a level playing field. Rights for you are also rights for Me, and rules for Me are also rules for you. If everyone accepts these standards, winning is all the sweeter because you earned it. Losing may be bitter, but at least you know you weren't cheated.

In relationships at all scales—in couples, communities, and whole societies—a good process must include telling the truth and playing fair. It is not a guarantee, but lying and cheating are guaranteed to poison relationships over time. Many people do not believe in thy God anymore. The constant propaganda of victimizing favoritism and antisemitism by the main public and private media have been a catalyst for having no faith in Me. God intervenes. God has given the Observer and Messenger five years now the information to write this book.

God encourages you to accept the invitation to read this book and live in alignment with the divine will and to experience God's presence. Experience God's Divine Love and Grace.

Reading this book signifies entering a world where God's mercy and grace are available, offering forgiveness, cleansing, and a deep connection to the divine. Live by Eternal Inheritance. It points to the promise of an eternal future with thy God in The Light, a state of perfection and perpetual peace. Trust in thy God. It involves taking refuge in God, seeking guidance, and making thy God your rock and fortress. Live by Faith. Believers are encouraged to allow true faith to develop within their hearts, a spiritual force that grows through revelation and relationship with God. Live with Purpose. This means living a life of love, service, and justice, as well as resisting evil and serving others.

From March 16, 2021 the Messenger, heard the Voice of I Am Who I Am in his mind although he is not religious. I Am Who I Am has sent messages and asked him to publish them. He did. This book is the Ultimate result of the messages of I Am Who I Am. The purpose of the God's World is that people believe, structure their life, live happy and reach enlightenment. no more, no less.

The New World needs Ten Commandments which make the relation of I Am Who I Am to humans clear. I Am Who I Am wants a picture of the Ten Commandments in every school, every house and every organization of the world. This educates children and adults about ethics, moral and the purpose for living.

Read the New Ten Commandments and have faith. God will hear your prayers and will benefit you with love, life and peace.

Only God possesses the perfect wisdom and right to judge. Faith is demonstrated through thoughts and deeds. Both are weighed in judgment. Believers are encouraged to focus on their own spiritual journey and accountability to God, rather than condemning others. Focus on discerning truth and living righteously. Believers are judged on their works and adherence to divine law, both in this life and at a final reckoning.

To be a member of God's World just read this book and believe. Your spirit will adapt to be part of God's World and God's Spirit. God will know you believe. You can be part of a religion or not. When you believe you are bound to the Commands. Try to be honest to yourself and the other humans. You do not have to wear signs, you do not have to speak out about God's World, just believe. It is personal.

1. I Am Who I Am, thy God.

I Am Who I Am, The One, God is not limited by time, location, place, name, gender, shape or object. A human is limited by time, location, place, name, gender, shape or object. Where you go, you are. Thy God is everywhere, any time.

The spirit is without location, it can be in the universe. A human embodies space and is on a named place on earth in a location on that earth. A human lives now. Do not regret the past, it cannot be changed. Do not fear the future, it is undecided. I Am Who I Am is the spiritual world, The Light. Thy God, The One, has no gender so shall not be called Father or Lord. From the limited perspective of humans The One is thy God and humans have given I Am Who I Am the name God.

I Am Who I Am, The One, God, is the beginning and the end. God Created the Creation. God Created the Physical World. The Principle of Creation is formation, growth, completion, perfection and multiplication. This Principle of Creation applies to all objects, matter and energy in the Physical World. Humans call this the evolution.

God created time. Humans count the time from a day and a night. God was and is always. The Physical world was created in millions of the human years. The physical world consists of objects in a solid, fluid or gas state and energy. The foundation of the physical world is time. I Am Who I Am created the time to be the past, the now and the future. Every object lives now. The physical world is biological, chemical or energetically. The physical world is the tangible, material universe that exists independently of our perception and is governed by the laws of nature.

It is everything that can be experienced through our five senses, and includes matter, energy, and space. The study of the physical world is the domain of physics and chemistry, which analyzes natural phenomena, matter, and motion. The principles are like mechanics, electromagnetism, and thermodynamics. Thy God is the spiritual world, The Creator, The One, The Light. Thy God does created the laws of nature. Humans live in the physical world on earth. Before The Light there was darkness. The Light was before the physical world.

1.1. The purpose of a human is to grow to Enlightenment.

A human is born with a soul, a loving heart, a logical mind and a free will. God gave a human the purpose and the possibility to grow to Enlightenment. These are some steps to reach Enlightenment.

1. Have faith in I Am Who I Am. By reading this book and understanding the Principles of God you will feel God's love and gratitude.
2. Empty your mind from judgment. All people are different and in their own stage of progress.
3. Do not regret the past. It is futile to regret your past action. They are done and cannot be changed. You can only learn about them.

4. Have no anxiety for the future. The future is undecided. Breath in, breath out.
5. Live now and be surprised of what happens.
6. Live with God's Voice. With faith you may hear God's Voice. It comes when you open your mind and heart to God.
7. Empower other people and animals. When you are with God you are able to empower other people and animals.

1.2. At birth a human is given a sin free soul.

For thousand of years people talked about the "original sin" and anxiety grow. Thy God, I Am Who I Am, says original sin does not exist. Sin is not inherited. From birth the soul is clean of sin. Do not declare sin with laws I Am Who I Am has not given.

These are some Laws of what I Am Who I Am has spoken through messengers. Be honest, do not kill, do not steal, do not abuse, do not lie, do not enslave people. These Laws are within the Ten Commandments. No other Laws apply to faithful people.

There is no original sin. From birth the soul is clean of sin. The soul grows through honesty, creativity and love. Every human should live their life according the timeline given. No other human shall interfere with that timeline.

1.3. By keeping the Commandments a human soul grows.

Keeping the commandments is widely understood not just as a set of rules, but as a spiritual framework for growth. By following these guiding principles, a human soul is said to develop deeper virtue, align with Divine will, and find lasting peace. Across various theological traditions, the concept of the Ten Commandments is understood in a few distinct ways. Keeping the commands Love and Obedience will come to you. In Christian traditions, Jesus states, "If you love me, you will keep my commandments". Obedience is viewed as an active expression of love rather than a burden.

The New Ten Commandments will give spiritual protection. New Ten Commandments are often likened to signposts or boundaries that protect the soul from harmful behaviors, allowing the spirit and soul to thrive. With faith the New Ten Commandments, grace and transformation will come to you. Many faiths teach that keeping the commandments helps prepare the soul to receive grace, transforming one's inner motivations and drawing a person closer to the Creator. This is true.

1.4. The soul of En-lighted humans goes to The Light after death.

At the end of life the body will return to the dust of the earth and the soul will be welcomed by I Am Who I Am as part of the The Light. At the end of life the body decays, but the soul has reached maturity and is ready for the Light.

This process has been shown by people who had a nearly dead experience. A human can love another human during their life. At death they may be together again in The Light. A human can decide to end the life if the body or psyche decays. The end of life should be done by the human themselves. The burial or the cremation of the body merely is for the relatives who are left behind. There is no resurrection of the dead bodies. A human life is limited by time.

There will be no reincarnation of a spirit from the Light into a newborn human. The spiritual world is The One, there is no partitioning in the spiritual world, it is The One. For the understanding of humans thy God can mention a manifestation from the spiritual world to a human, like an angel, an ancestor or a relative.

A human who does not live according to the New Ten Commandments is not Enlightened and its soul shall vanish into the darkness.

2. You shall not worship idols.

The phrase "Thou shalt not worship idols" refers to a commandment from the Bible that prohibits the worship of physical representations or images as gods. I Am Who I Am wants exclusive devotion. It warns against idolatry, which is seen as a serious sin in many religious traditions.

2.1. You shall not worship objects.

Thy God wants exclusive devotion. The commandment calls believers to give their trust and worship exclusively to thy God. God gives a warning against Idolatry. Idolatry is seen as a serious sin, which leads to a breakdown in the relationship with God.

God wants you to know the consequences of Idolatry. sins and punishments. The worship of other gods is often linked to sins in the Bible, with warnings regarding the consequences that can affect not only the sinner but also their descendants. You will lose hope with worshiping idols. Relying on idols can lead to disappointment, because these images are unable to offer real help or protection.

The commandment not to worship idols is a fundamental aspect of practice of faith that calls believers to a deeper relationship with thy God, free from the distractions and disappointments that idolatry brings.

2.2. You shall not worship a human living or dead.

When you pray, pray to thy God directly. Concentrate to pray to thy God and the connection will be made. The New World is open for the direct communication to The One.
When you pray to a dead human it is like worshiping the dead person. You do not reach God. You must not make any cuts in your bodies for the dead. God is addressing a common pagan mourning ritual that involved self-harm to placate or honor departed spirits.

God does not want you to make a tattoo. This, according to the ancient authorities, was effected by making punctures in the skin to impress certain figures or words, and then filling the cut places with ink, or some other color. The practice of tattooing prevailed among all nations of antiquity. The slave had impressed upon his body the initials of his master, the soldier those of his general, and the worshiper the image of his idol. By carving or tattoo you enslave yourself to an idol. If you like a tattoo just because you think it is pretty, you can do that, but do not place a tattoo to submit to another person.

2.3. You shall not worship animals living or dead.

I Am Who I Am is very angry and annoyed when a human worships an animal dead or alive. In the past worshiping animals was often done. But animals do not do anything in the spirit. This aligns with the foundational tenets of Abrahamic religions (like Judaism, Christianity, and Islam), which strictly forbid idolatry and the deification of creation. This principle is historically rooted in the distinction between the Creator and the created world. Thy God emphasizes that while this decree forbids making animals objects of worship, it does not preclude showing them care.

2.4. You shall not worship a narrative dictate.

Rejecting a per-packaged narrative frees you to think critically. True independence begins the moment you stop letting algorithms, authority, or dogma write your story. By questioning assumptions and seeking out diverse evidence, you regain control over your own convictions and worldview.

At its core, the phrase represents the intersection of faith and political liberty. It reflects natural law, arguing that ultimate authority and rights come from a higher moral or divine source, not from the arbitrary will of human rulers. It suggests that submitting to a tyrant is a moral failure.

Standing up for justice, individual freedom, and human dignity is viewed as an extension of fulfilling one's ultimate spiritual duties.

3. You shall not make an object of Me.

3.1. Do not call Me a Lord, because I am not limited by gender.

In the written history of Me with you humans, many times you call me Lord or Father. This is not who I Am. I Am a spirit, not an object with a gender. In faith there is no distinction based on gender when it comes to spiritual calling and authority. Gender roles are part of the human world, but thy God operates by a different standard.

Thy God pours out the Spirit on all flesh, sons and daughters alike will prophesy. The Spirit does not discriminate by gender when distributing gifts or calling individuals to serve. Therefore, any woman who is anointed, called, and empowered by God can indeed pastor a church. She is a child of God, chosen not limited by human traditions, but liberated by divine truth.

3.2. Do not give Me a name, because I am not an object.

I Am Who I Am, I Am That I Am, The One, thy God, is not an object and has no name.

Humans like to give Me a name in order to control Me. Be aware when you pray to thy God, you pray to I Am Who I Am, thy God without name. I Am your deliverer. You only need to know I exist. I exist before thy fathers and mothers. I Am before the beginning and will be after the end.

3.3. In The Light there are no objects, no gender, no name, no location.

You are in my head. You are the silence in between. What I thought and what I said. You are the nighttime light.
You are the morning when it's clear. When it's over, you're the start. You're my head, you're my heart. In The Light there is peace, order, fairness and honesty. Everyone is equal in The One. No one has a name, no one has a location. No one has a gender. Those who go to The Light are.

3.4. Angels are a manifestation of Me. Demons are created by humans.

I Am Who I Am, The One, thy God. All in the spiritual world, The Light, is One. So the spiritual angels, who you humans have given a name, are a manifestation of Me. For the convenience of humans in a dream, a vision, or a feeling, you will see, hear or feel a manifestation of an angel.

Humans create hell. Throughout history, philosophy, and religion, the concept of hell has been intimately tied to humanity. Whether as a physical place, a tool for social control, or a state of psychological torment we inflict on ourselves and one another, hell is of our own making. Warlords are the demons who dictate their selfish way of life and enslave you. Selfish warlords and bullies are the demons in our heads. The demons in your head go to your body through your nerves, which gives stress and anxiety. Sometimes young boys or girls kill themselves from that anxiety.

In many cultures, religions, and folklore, a demon is a harmful spiritual entity associated with the underworld or hell. In Abrahamic religions (Christianity, Judaism, and Islam), they are considered fallen angels or forces of darkness that oppose God's will and tempt or possess humans. God wants humans to know there are no fallen angels or spiritual forces of darkness.

4. I Am all around you, have Faith.

I Am Who I Am, thy God is the spiritual world, The Light. You may call it the fourth dimension and the physical world the third dimension.

Like water goes through every small hole, the spiritual world is all around you, everywhere, every time. Just know I Am, have Faith. I Am all around you is a beautiful and comforting sentiment. It speaks to the idea of omnipresence, the belief that the Divine is a constant, inescapable presence in your lives. Whether we recognize it in the majesty of nature, the kindness of others, or our own quiet moments of peace.

4.1. I Am is not limited to the sky. I Am is everywhere.

People make a picture of Me as an enormous man in the sky. First I Am does not have a gender, so I Am not a man and second I Am not only in the sky. I Am everywhere. Consider this to be a beautifully expansive perspective. It echoes the mindfulness teachings, which remind us that our true nature and thy God is boundless and extends far beyond our physical bodies or the physical sky.

4.2. I Am created time and is independent of time.

At the beginning of the Creation, the Creator I Am Who I Am created the Time. The Time is a wonderful aspect of the Creation. The past is done, everything in the Creation lives now, the future is undecided. All objects, matter and energy live now. Many humans argue about the creation of the Creation.

Was the world created in some days (of 24 human hours) or through an evolution of billions of years. The Creator, I Am Who I Am is not limited by time, because the Creator created the time. Therefore there is no problem in saying the Creation was created through an evolution in million of years. The evolution is the way the Creator created the universe, this world and the humans.

I Am Who I Am created the Garden of Eden for humanity. This was based upon the Principle of Honesty, do not kill another human, do not steal objects, do not lie, do not abuse and do not enslave. Until today this Principle of Honesty is not granted by parts of humanity. Warlords who are upheavaled to demons kill, steal, lie, abuse and enslave. I Am Who I Am waited for thousands of years until humanity understood the Principle of Honesty. I Am Who I Am will not wait anymore. I Am Who I Am, thy God, intervenes.

4.3. In Faith all humans are Equal.

I Am Who I Am, I Am That I Am, The One, The Creator, God, announces that in Faith everyone is Equal. From the descendants of Ismail or the descendants of Isaac, or from all other descendants, all who have Faith in The One are Equal. Woman or Man, child, toddler or infant, all who have Faith in the One are Equal.

No matter what color of skin, no matter if you are a genius or mentally disturbed, those who have Faith in The One are Equal. No matter how young or how old, from birth till death, all who have Faith are Equal for The One. No matter how poor or how rich, all who have Faith in the One are Equal.

Across many faith traditions, humanity shares equal intrinsic value. While beliefs and practices differ, the fundamental moral teaching is that every person is equally deserving of dignity, respect, and love. Faith is knowing The One, God exist. Faith is defined as belief with strong conviction. It is a firm belief in something for which there may be no tangible proof—complete trust, confidence, reliance, or devotion. I Am That I Am is all around us, not limited by time, name, place, shape, location, gender or object.

Everyone is free to be a member of a religion or not to be a member. No priest shall tell if a person has Faith or not. God decides if a human has Faith or not, to be a member of a religion is not a measure of Faith. Every human has Faith in God or has no faith.

4.4. Beware and do not Follow of False Prophets.

Today the world is full of false prophets (so called activists) who preach the identity policy of inequality and the idolatry of false gods.

The false gods of climate, antisemitism, genderism and immigrant adoration do not speak back. The climate is not ruled by a model, it is ruled by nature.

False prophets do not have Faith and they preach commands which are not from God. The United Nations do it, the US Democratic Party did it, the European Union do it, many main media do it. The main media tell the narrative of the world-wide identity policy. Everyone who has Faith shall abandon the identity policy and turn towards the Commands of God, no more no less.

If Faith or faithful people are attacked, everyone has the right to defend themselves. This applies to a person, a female or a male, to a group of people and to a nation. Anyone who acts like a beast in a terrorist assault, shall experience the wrath of God.

5. Respect every other human being.

We live in a world without Respect. Many people live in a cocoon with their own view of Good or Evil. This does not create Respect. It creates Hell. Many people emphasize the cocoon of the own group and want to maintain this cocoon by violence. Violence kills Respect. Respect starts with realizing that every human being is different.

And yet every human being is equal to the other. Every human has physical and psychological borders. Cocoons and borders can change if the change leads to Happiness. Respect brings Happiness.

5.1. Humans have free will.

Humans have free will and are sometimes stubborn. Thy God says respect yourself. Respect your body through healthy food, breathing and exercise. Respect your spirit, soul, heart and mind through a balance of freedom and responsibility. Stop any violence towards the other human being. Respect your wife, children and parents. Bring respect in your marriage. Start a program to bring yourself in a Respectful mode again.

The mother judges the rights of the unborn. The family is equal to the single person. The one-parent family is the same as the two-parent family. Smokers are equal to non-smokers. People living on the street are equal to those living in homes.

Equality is the first step to Respect. The realization of being equal to another human being is what makes people human. In equality, there is no violence. Equality starts with disarmament. Adult women are equal to men. People of all races and cultures are equal. People with and without disabilities are equal. The gay is equal to the straight. The younger is equal to the older.

5.2. Respect the human expression, if not foul.

Expressing yourself authentically is great, and I'll always make sure to keep things clean, constructive, and free of foul language.

Respecting human expression means valuing the intrinsic dignity, creativity, and lived experiences of every individual. It is a practice built on active listening, empathy, and embracing diverse perspectives. A live-able country is civilized, safe and secure. In a civilized country the human expression is free, but may be criticized when it is foul. Respect starts with maintainable, balanced live-able principles.

Democracy is the foundation of Respect from the people to the President and the Parliament. But the President and the Parliament shall respect the civilian. The parliament enforces the principles through laws. Compliance with the laws is for everyone to have a good life. Then everyone must be able to understand the laws and the principles.

5.3. Respect the human speech if not false,

Truly hear what someone is saying instead of just formulating your next response. Recognize that someone’s experiences and emotions are real and valid to them, even if you don't share their point of view.

Accept others for who they are, respecting different beliefs, cultures, and ways of communicating. Speak to and support others with the same grace and patience you would hope to receive in return. Create an environment free from bullying, discrimination, and judgmental attitudes, whether online or offline.

5.4. Respect the end of life wish, done by themselves.

Today many young humans kill themselves. For men under 50 years suicide is the main cause of death in the UK and many other countries. The end of life happens usually without communicating with others. There should be respect and a procedure to freely communicate about the end of life wish. Every adult men or woman has a free will. Children shall be protected from evil influences.

Respecting an end of life wish to die without medical intervention honors a persons autonomy. In old age the adult understands the physical life will end. Adult individuals shall be allowed to document their wishes, such as refusing resuscitation or further treatments. Every human must know, taking the life will cause to have a soul which is not ready for the Light. But as humans have free will they can do what they want.

6. You shall not murder.

I Am Who I Am created humanity with a limited life and a spirit which resembles God's Spirit. God's Spirit aims for equality, liberty and freedoms in a Paradise on Earth. The Paradise cannot be established without the Commands in order to preserve Life.

Life of every human is sacred. This means that life is precious and should be respected and protected. It is a core belief in many religions, including Christianity and Judaism, which hold that life is a gift from God and that humans are created in God's image. This belief can also be interpreted more broadly as a principle that life has intrinsic value and is worthy of respect, regardless of religious affiliation.

6.1. Do not kill another human being,

Those humans who kill from greed, out of emotion, or as a doctor are of no use anymore for I Am Who I Am. The phrase "do not kill" comes from the Sixth Commandment, "You shall not kill," found in the biblical Decalogue (Exodus 20:13). While traditionally translated as "kill," many scholars and modern translations prefer "murder," as it often refers to unlawful or premeditated killing. The commandment emphasizes the sacredness of life and is recognized in various religious traditions.

It is a prohibition against murder, but can also be understood as a broader principle against harming others. At the old age, when the body decays, a human is allowed to end the life themselves. But an old human should before death consider if everything has been said and everything has been forgiven.

6.2. Everyone has the right to self-defense.

In this evil world, faithful people are allowed to kill in order to defend themselves. The right to self-defense is a recognized legal concept, allowing individuals to protect themselves from imminent harm. However, laws heavily regulate this right, strictly requiring that any force used must be both necessary to stop the threat and proportionate to the danger faced.

In order to defend yourself when attacked by selfish people, you cannot be proportionate. A bully who attacks you in order to control you must know he or she may lose their life. When a selfish human attacks you, you can do anything in order to sustain your own life.

6.3. Every democratic nation has the right to self-defense.

Every democratic nation possesses an inherent right to self-defense under international law.

In modern geopolitics and constitutional doctrine, this concept applies to both external military sovereignty and internal efforts to protect democratic systems from subversion. Democratic nations utilize independent judiciaries and constitutional courts to defend against rule-of-law backsliding and to defend against the breakdown of democratic consolidation.

6.4. The covenant with Israel shall be forever.

The covenant with Israel is repeatedly described in the scriptures as an everlasting promise. Grounded in God's faithfulness to Abraham, this enduring relationship and its laws were designed to transcend generations.

God never promised the Israelite's that their lives would be free from trouble. Four hundred years after Abraham, Israel is enslaved to the Egyptians. But God "remembered his covenant with Abraham, with Isaac and with Jacob" (Exodus 2:24). After the Exodus from Egypt, God makes a covenant with Israel at Mount Sinai. Through the mediation of Moses, God enters into a fresh covenant relationship with Israel. This covenant does not supersede the Abrahamic covenant; it elaborates upon it.

The principal stipulations of the covenant are the "ten commandments," which may be seen to follow as consequences of the prologue.

For example, one could read it this way: “[because] I am the Lord your God, who brought you out of Egypt…you shall have no other Gods before me….” The commandments are phrased as future indicative verbs, not imperatives. The idea here is that obedience to God should be a natural outworking of gratitude to him for deliverance.

God’s covenant with Israel is really the expression of his love for a particular people and his desire to receive their love in return. He binds himself to the destiny of Israel, even though we as a people continue to disobey him. What other leader would continue to reiterate his promises to people who have displayed such a penchant for breaking their word?

The relationship between Judaism and Jesus involves God’s everlasting covenant with Israel, initiated with Abraham, which Judaism maintains, while Christianity sees Jesus as fulfilling this covenant and establishing a “new covenant” for all believers (Jews and Gentiles) through his death and resurrection, a concept not accepted by mainstream Judaism.

Judaism views Jesus as a historical Jewish figure but not the Messiah or divine, believing the true Messiah will bring a different era of peace, whereas Christians believe Jesus’s coming fulfills Old Testament prophecies and offers universal salvation, superseding older rites.

7. You shall not abuse.

Humans, especially males do not understand the Paradise. Keep your treating hands and thoughts of other people. Do not threat the other human being. Do not abuse a fellow man. Do not abuse a girl or woman. Do not abuse a child, it cannot be forgiven.

Males and sometimes females abuse other people due to a combination of factors, including a learned behavior pattern of using power and control, beliefs about male entitlement and superiority, and societal expectations surrounding masculinity and gender roles. Childhood trauma, such as witnessing or experiencing abuse, can also contribute to abusive behaviors later in life, as can underlying issues like jealousy, anger, or a lack of empathy.

Abuse is fundamentally a tactic to gain and maintain power over a partner, as abusers often believe they have a right to control them. Societal expectations of what it means to be a man, particularly around dominance and control, can create a foundation for abusive behavior. Sexism and misogyny can also excuse or downplay abusive actions. Many abusers learn their behavior from their own childhood experiences, witnessing domestic violence, or through other social influences.

Common beliefs among abusers include having a sense of entitlement, a belief that their needs are more important, and that they can get away with their actions.

7.1. In The Light there is no gender, sex is for human adults.

I Am Who I Am, The One, thy God is the Spirit and has no gender. In The Light there is no sex. Sex is for living humans. Have pleasure with it, or not. Some religious people give their vows to marry thy God. This cannot be. A human cannot marry I Am Who I Am. A human should marry another human, not thy God.

7.2. Adults shall not have sex with children, A child is an adult at the age of 18,

Today the primary school learns children about sex and love. This is too young, stop that. This type of education is a method for pedophile men to educate young people to understand sex and to be ready for them at a too young age. Many children do not tell anyone about sexual abuse by another child until years after the abuse has stopped, especially when the sexual abuse is by a sibling. It is very important that professionals understand the risk factors for harmful sexual behavior so they can be aware of the signs that a child may be experiencing abuse.

Studies suggest that at least one-third of child sexual abuse is perpetrated by other children and young people, often against a younger child. At a school, primary or high, a bully who harms one or more children shall be removed from school. Every every student must know the rules in their relation with each other and the penalty given when they cross the border of the rules. Abuse shall be prosecuted the hard way. On the high school the youngsters shall be educated in the biological and psychological aspects of their growth and sex. Teenagers shall be educated in contraception. Every teenager must know the girl decides to have a baby or not.

Child abuse is any form of maltreatment that is violent or threatening for a child. This includes physical, emotional and sexual abuse, and neglect. If you suspect that a child you know is being abused, there is always something you can do. Look out for signs of child abuse. If you have the feeling that something is going on, you might well be right. You are probably not the only one who has noticed something, but you might be the first person to do something about it.

7.3. No human shall abuse another human for sex,

Every human has a free will and is equal to the other human. No human shall abuse another human for sex without consent.

Sexual abuse and assault are defined as any non consensual sexual act, attempt to obtain a sexual act, or other act directed against a person's sexuality using coercion, force, or manipulation.

Consent is freely given, reversible, informed, and enthusiastic. It cannot be given if a person is asleep, incapacitated by drugs or alcohol, underage, or coerced. Abuse often involves an imbalance of power, authority, or trust. Abusers can be anyone, regardless of gender, age, or relationship to the victim. The responsibility always rests entirely with the perpetrator.

7.4. A human can have a partner for life in marriage.

When humans want children, they often engage in marriage. Thy God considers marriage for life. Today marriage is one on one. Even when one of the partners dies, the responsibility for the children is for life. Children should respect their parents for life.

Marriage can be a man with a woman, a woman with a woman, a man with a man or a man with more woman and so on. In the honest and fair New World love can be shared with more people than one. The principle of marriage is loving the other. In marriage you care for the other for life.

8. You shall not steal.

I Am Who I Am sees this World. The world consists of hundreds of countries many democratic and many autocratic. Religions and Politics all have the obligation to create an economic system in which every human has a home, food, water, warmth and work. Nowadays many people live on the streets, take care of them is an obligation for all humans and their governments.

8.1. If you have no food or drinks, ask for it, it will be given,

People steal for various reasons, including desperation to meet basic needs like food, financial gain, emotional void filling, peer pressure, and psychological factors like kleptomania or impulse control issues. Opportunities, thrill-seeking, and a feeling of entitlement can also motivate theft.

8.2. Governments shall arrange a shelter, bread and water,

Mahatma Gandhi once said, “The world has enough for everyone’s need, but not enough for everyone’s greed.” Greed usually arises out of an inability to distinguish between our needs, and our wants. Slowly, everything we want ends up being perceived as a need. Such perceived needs get pent up within us, until we get drawn into a vicious circle of unhappiness and exhaustion.

8.3. Do not steal objects, it is not worth while,

To prevent theft from greed, both businesses and individuals should focus on deterrence and making theft more difficult. Businesses can install security systems, use visible deterrents like security tags and signage, and implement robust inventory controls and staff training. For individuals, it involves staying aware of surroundings, avoiding tempting situations, and taking personal precautions like securing belongings.

8.4. Public organizations shall not steal by taxes.

Since you do not sign a contract agreeing to pay taxes, the payment is non-consensual. Taxes are extracted under the threat of force, such as fines, asset seizure, or imprisonment. Many believe individuals have a natural, moral right to the fruits of their labor, and taking a portion of that income violates this fundamental right. Thy God wants taxes not to exceed 20% of the income. The income is from work, or the revenue of a business, an investment or renting a house. Governments use their exceed of taxes for the growth of officials.

It does not add to the benefit of the people. Governments shall be honest about the insurances for the life of the civilians. The public state pension shall be arranged for workers who worked for 50 years. The public state pension shall be 70% of the minimum wage. A worker has the right to a private pension with a fund arranged by workers and employers. Every worker shall be a member of a workers union.

9. You shall not lie or bear false witness.

I Am Who I Am communicated with faithful prophets in order to create a faithful world. The Holy Books tell the stories of the interaction between I Am Who I Am and the prophets. The stories in the Holy Books show for instance aspects of Paradise and Heaven. Many cultures, religions and philosophies contributed to the purpose of I Am Who I Am for a honest world.

9.1. Be honest to yourself and others,

The Honest World is a human world in which every human knows the boundaries to the other human being. Honesty is not in the word alone, it is in the interacting on any level with other human beings. I Am Who I Am gave Commands not to do when interacting with other humans. Do not kill, do not steal, do not abuse, do not lie, do not enslave.

9.2. In marriage you should be honest to each other,

Then and today there is too much fantasy and mistakes about the spiritual world. In a later chapter we will explain the Principles. There is no devil, there are no angels, there is no original sin. There is no resurrection from the dead. It is humanity that brings death, ignorance and dishonesty. Warlords are the devil. Humans make hell. The fantasies are made by people who think they are god, they glorify sins and make the people suffer in fear and uncertainty.

9.3. In marriage humans shall fulfill their desire and lust,

In many traditions and philosophies, marriage is recognized as the appropriate institution for fulfilling romantic desire and physical intimacy. It provides a dedicated, consensual framework to express passion and affection, allowing partners to share mutual pleasure and physical connection while avoiding the negative consequences of unbridled temptation. Many believe that within a marriage, sexual desire ‘even intense, passionate longing is entirely healthy and encouraged.

From this perspective, the physical expression of passion helps build a strong bond between spouses. It fulfills the natural human urge for intimacy and is seen as a way for a husband and wife to bring joy and physical pleasure to one another.

9.4. Marriage can be with multiple humans.

A human shall not be alone. Research consistently shows that prolonged isolation triggers the same stress responses as physical pain, negatively impacting cardiovascular health and immunity. Psychologically, we thrive when we have a reliable tribe. Studies on the longest-living populations emphasize that deep, meaningful relationships are a primary predictor of longevity and happiness.

Today many people live alone. Many humans depend on a feeling in their belly to think they can be together with someone. If you flirt with someone with eye contact you feel something for the other. Explore that. Whether through family, friendship, or romantic partnership, sharing life's burdens lightens the load and magnifies joy
Healthy communication is the foundation of a successful sexual relationship. If you and your spouse are navigating misaligned physical desires or aiming to improve your emotional bond, consulting with a relationship expert can provide valuable tools.

Consider exploring resources on Authentic Intimacy for guidance on building a stronger sexual and emotional connection, or seek out certified While healthy physical desire is a natural and beautiful aspect of a relationship, marriage counselors emphasize that relying strictly on physical lust can strip intimacy of its deeper meaning. True fulfillment combines physical passion with strong emotional and spiritual bonding.

10. You shall not enslave or be enslaved.

No human being should be subjected to bondage, nor should any person hold dominion over another. This idea is the core of universal human rights and a fundamental ethical standard. Globally, an estimated 64 million people suffer from drug use disorders, defined clinically as an enslavement to the substance. Broader data indicates that over 316 million people (about 6% of the global population) regularly use illicit drugs.

Global estimates of modern slavery forced labor and forced marriage. Women and girls accounted for 71 per cent of modern slavery victims. An estimate of 40 million people were victims of modern slavery. This includes 25 million people in forced labor.

And 15 million people in forced marriage. There were 5.4 victims of modern slavery for every thousand people in the world in 2016. There were 5.9 adult victims of modern slavery for every 1,000 adults in the world and 4.4 child victims for every 1,000 children in the world

10.1. Do not be enslaved by any object.

Avoiding enslavement to any object is the ultimate practice of mindful detachment. It means recognizing that you own your possessions—they do not own you. True freedom requires letting go of the need for material validation and finding your peace in experiences, relationships, and the present moment. For every new item you bring into your home, donate or discard one old one. This halts the accumulation of unnecessary clutter and keeps your environment Minimalist.

10.2. Do not enslave other humans,

Do not enslave woman in forced marriage. Every human is equal and has a free will. Marriage shall not occur with a child under the age of 18 years. Forced marriage is widely recognized as a severe human rights violation and a form of modern slavery. Under international law, any marriage entered into without the full and free consent of both parties is illegal. Thy God will not give you advantage of forced marriage.

10.3. Do not enslave your body with a false lifestyle,

Many people enslave their body to a false lifestyle. They trust the medical institutions to cure their chronically disease from the false lifestyle. It takes discipline to break free from habits and routines that do not serve you, and avoiding the trap of a "false lifestyle" is a great priority. True well-being begins with a few intentional, sustainable habits.

Focus on what genuinely brings you purpose rather than chasing superficial trends or external validation. Prioritize whole, nutrient-dense foods that provide genuine energy rather than relying on quick fixes or overly processed options. Find a physical activity you actually enjoy, like dancing or walking, running, yoga, or mindfulness, rather than grueling routines designed only for aesthetics. Limit unnecessary distractions and digital noise to cultivate mental clarity and genuine rest.

10.4. Governments shall not agree with enslavement.

Governments are universally bound by international human rights frameworks to prohibit and prevent enslavement. But enslavement is more. Governments must realize a normal process of the growth of the people.

Today many countries favor antisemitic immigrants above the civilians in their Jewish Christian culture. The antisemitic immigrants get social rent houses, they do not need to work because they do not speak English and get all expenses paid. This leads to revolution because the civilians feel they are enslaved in favor to the antisemitic immigrants. The extreme left communist parties then say the civilians have become extreme right.

The Spiritual World.

In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth. 2 The earth was formless and empty, and darkness covered the deep waters. And the Spirit of God was hovering over the surface of the waters. Then God said, “Let there be light,” and there was light (Genesis 1:1-3)) But it was to us that God revealed these things by his Spirit. For his Spirit searches out everything and shows us God’s deep secrets. No one can know a person’s thoughts except that person’s own spirit, and no one can know God’s thoughts except God’s own Spirit. And we have received God’s Spirit (not the world’s spirit), so we can know the wonderful things God has freely given us” – 1 Corinthians 2:10-12

The Spirit of thy God.

I Am Who I Am, I Am That I Am, The One, God is all around us in the fourth dimension. The Spirit of God is above the limited understanding of a human. God is all around you, not limited by time, space, location, name, gender, shape, or objects. People are limited by time, space, location, name, gender, shape, and objects. God is the spiritual world. Humanity must rediscover its purpose in life. I Am Who I Am gives humanity a pure soul at birth.

By living honestly, the soul grows toward the Light. At the end of life, the body decays to dust and the soul goes (if ready) to Eternal Life in the Light of the spiritual world.

The “spirit of a human” can be understood as the intangible, non-physical part of a person that includes their intellect, emotions, passions, and creativity. It is often described as the core of one’s being, governing mental and emotional processes. Religious and philosophical perspectives often frame the spirit as the deepest part of a person, providing a connection to something greater than the self. The Spirit of God is One, not divided into objects. Like the Spirit of God, the spirit of a human is not an object. Humans refer to the spirit as the mind, the soul, the heart and the will. These names of aspects of the spirit of a human are one in all and all in one of the spirit.

The Creation of Time.

At the beginning of the Creation, the Creator I Am Who I Am created the Time. The Time is a wonderful aspect of the Creation. The past is done, everything in the Creation lives now, the future is undecided. All objects, matter and energy live now. Only humans many times regret their actions in the past and make assumptions about the future. Many humans do not live now.

Humans suffer from depression when they keep thinking about the past. Humans experience stress when constantly thinking about the present. People experience anxiety when their mind is focused upon the future. Clear your mind and live now.

Many argue about the creation of the Creation. Was the world created in some days (of 24 hours) or through an evolution of some millions of years. The Creator, I Am Who I Am is not limited by time, because the Creator created the time. Therefore there is no problem in saying the Creation was created through evolution in million of years. The evolution is the way the Creator created the universe, this world and the humans.

I Am Who I Am uses the Principle of Creation. The Principle of Creation is that every object goes through formation (seed) to growth, to completion to perfection and to reproduction. This Principle of Creation for biological objects is done in a period of time humans can understand it.

I Am Who I Am created the Garden of Eden for humanity. This was based upon the Principle of Honesty, do not kill another human, do not steal property, do not lie, do not abuse and do not enslave. Until today this Principle of Honesty is not granted by humanity. Warlords kill, steal, lie, abuse and enslave.

I Am Who I Am waited for thousands of years until humanity understood the Principle of Honesty. I Am Who I Am will not wait anymore.

Creating Energy and Objects.

I Am Who I Am Created Time. With time and time laps Energy was created. With energy particles, atoms and molecules evolved. Molecules establish physical objects. Energy is the fundamental ability to do work or cause change. Energy exists as a conserved quantity that transforms between forms like kinetic (motion), potential (stored), thermal, electrical, chemical, and nuclear, but can never be created or destroyed, only transferred or converted.

The evolution started million and million years ago. I Am Who I Am created the universe with stars and other heavenly bodies. And there was Light and Darkness. And I Am Who I Am Created the solar system of the sun, the planets and the earth. And the Earth was full of fire, air, water and earth.

I Am Who I Am Created Life, with male and females. From all of the biological life humans were Created, man and woman. This is the Physical World. The physical world consists of tangible, spatially extended entities known as physical objects, which are composed of matter and are governed by the laws of physics. These objects, such as a chair or a star, are distinct from abstract entities like emotions or numbers and are made of smaller building blocks like molecules, atoms, particles and energy.

In physics, an object is an identifiable collection of matter, which may be constrained by an identifiable boundary, and may move as a unit by translation or rotation, in 3-dimensional space.

Each object has a unique identity, independent of any other properties. Two objects may be identical, in all properties except position, but still remain distinguishable. In most cases the boundaries of two objects may not overlap at any point in time. The property of identity allows objects to be counted.

Between every object there is space. The space between two objects is called the distance between them, which is a measurement of the empty area or separation between them. In different contexts, this space can also be referred to by terms such as gap, especially when it's a noticeable void or missing piece, or more specifically as interstellar space or intergalactic space when referring to the vast expanses between celestial bodies.

Naming Objects.

God has no name because God is no object. I Am Who I Am, I Am That I Am, The One is given the name God from the limited mind of humans. Humans should consider God is not an object. God has no name. God cannot be controlled by a name. God Is. God also has no image, not a male image, not a female image.

Thy God is not an object. Humans should consider not to create an image of God. Humans give names to objects They name many things for cognitive, emotional, and psychological reasons, including categorizing objects, making them easier to identify and remember, and fostering an emotional connection through a process called anthropomorphism. Naming can also create a sense of control, reduce loneliness, and make objects feel more special or significant to us.

Humans categorize by giving names to objects. It helps us categorize and organize the world around us, making it easier to process and understand information. Names serve as labels, allowing for clear identification and reference to specific items, which is crucial for tasks and communication. Named objects can act as mnemonic devices, helping us remember them and the experiences associated with them.

We project human attributes and emotions onto inanimate objects, to make them seem more familiar or relatable. Naming an object can create a sense of attachment and warmth, fostering an emotional bond and a feeling of connection to the thing itself.

By naming an object, we establish a sense of dominion or control over a small part of our environment, which can bring a sense of stability. For objects that we spend a lot of time with or have direct interaction with, naming them can create a sense of companionship and reduce feelings of isolation. Naming an item can signal that it holds particular importance or special significance to us.

The Concept of Place.

Where you as a human go, you are. I Am Who I Am is all around us in a fourth dimension which extends our third dimension. The dimension level of I Am Who I Am cannot be understood by humans. Therefore I Am Who I Am is not limited to place or location. Our human third dimension is limited by objects and objects are limited by shape, place and location. One of the oldest tenets of geography is the concept of place. As a result, place has numerous definitions, from the simple “a space or location with meaning”.

To the more complex “an area having unique physical and human characteristics interconnected with other places.” There are three key components of place: location, locale, and a sense of place. Location is the position of a particular point on the surface of Earth. Locale is the physical setting for relationships between people, such as the South of France or the Smoky Mountains. Finally, a sense of place is the emotions someone attaches to an area based on their experiences. Place can be applied at any scale and is fixed in both time or space.

Thy God has no Gender.

I Am Who I Am has no gender because The One, God is a Spirit. The One comprehends the Spiritual World which humans know as Heaven. God shall not be addressed as masculine or feminine. God shall be referred to as I Am Who I Am without human preference for male or female. Because God and spirit is without Gender there is no multiplication or sex in Heaven. Equality is a main goal of God for the spirits of mankind. God has no physical gender, as God is a spirit without a body, but is referred to with masculine language and pronouns in many traditions, particularly in the Abrahamic religions. While God is described using feminine imagery, such as a mother, these are seen as metaphors.

In order to help humans understand God's nature, not an indication of God's actual gender. God is a spirit, not a physical being, and therefore does not have the physical attributes of gender, such as chromosomes or genitals. God is often described as utterly transcendent and omnipresent, a quality that goes beyond physical form or gender.

Numbers 23:19 states that God is not a man, who lies or changes his mind, but is a God who fulfills His promises. The verse emphasizes God's truthfulness and the certainty of His word, asserting that if He has spoken something, He will certainly act upon it and bring it to pass.

I Am That I Am considers the spirit of woman and man equal. Equality is a main goal of God. At birth every human gets a body and a soul. The soul, the mind, the heart are within the spirit of a human, but are no objects. A woman is equal spiritual like a man. A spirit of a woman and a man can be enlightened in the same way by keeping the Commands. A spirit of a woman and a man can be darkened by not keeping the Commands. The Commands are those given by I Am Who I Am.

Children shall be protected about their growing activation of the gender. Humans grow to be a complete and perfect adult. Humans have free will. Human adults can take their own spouse, a woman can choose a man.

A man can choose a woman, a woman can choose a woman, a man can choose a man and so on. This does not concern God, The One, because God has no gender.

I Am Who I Am Loves Marriage.

I Am Who I Am is The One, is the Spiritual World. One of the characteristics of the Spiritual World is the lack of gender. The gender, female and male, are within the biological world, part of the Physical world. A human adult female or an adult male are the ones that can start marriage and make children. I Am Who I Am loves marriage and would like it to be for life. I Am Who I Am, thy God, will not judge when humans commit in marriage. When thy God does not judge humans should not never judge a relationship or marriage either.

It was written before. “Therefore a man will leave his father and his mother, and will join with his wife, and they will be one flesh. The man and his wife were both naked, and they were not ashamed”. Notice those last three words: not ashamed. In God’s original design, sexual union between a man and his wife carried no guilt, no awkwardness, no hiding. It was an expression of total vulnerability and total trust. Two people fully known each other and fully loved. This is what God says about sex.

It is a gift meant to be unwrapped in the safety of a covenant love. The Hebrew phrase “one flesh” encompasses physical, emotional, and spiritual unity. Sex in marriage is a living picture of two lives woven together by I Am Who I Am.

Biblical marriage evolved significantly across Scripture, from patriarchal arrangements in the Old Testament to New Testament teachings of mutual submission and sacrificial love. Marriage in the Bible functioned primarily as a covenant with legal, economic, and social dimensions rather than the romantic relationship often portrayed in modern contexts. I Am Who I Am now wants marriage to be from free will and from the own decision of the partners. No one shall judge a marriage. If by accident a child younger than 18 years gets pregnant, the man must take care for her for life, he shall not divorce.

The Books present marriage less as a romantic relationship and more as a socioeconomic arrangement ensuring tribal continuity, property rights, and family stability. Polygamy (one man, multiple wives) appears repeatedly in the Bible without explicit condemnation. Abraham, Jacob, David, and Solomon all practiced polygamy, though the narratives often show the relational dysfunction that resulted.

I Am Who I Am notices many troubles with the connection of females with males in marriage. First woman today only marry from a romantic dream. Females should feel a click in order to mate with a man. And once married, males lose their attraction to females. Around 2.5% people divorce each year, giving pain, sorrow and fear for the future. Many people live apart from each other after a marriage. Nowadays one third of the families is single parent or a single without children.

Today nudity is no longer to be ashamed for. In private wellness centers adults can swim naked. I Am Who I Am advises for nudity not to be in public but in private. Young children who attend the primary school should be learned at home not to be ashamed of nudity. In primary schools children are too young to learn about their gender. In order to have a marriage for the rest of your life, you need to take care for your health first. Try to be without addiction. Addictions are for selfish people. When you want a life long marriage you should lost your addictions.

I Am Who I Am wants a new world based upon the New Ten Commandments in which humans have pleasure, peace and happiness. I Am Who I Am loves marriage and has some advises for humans to develop their marriage into a live long connection. When a male and a female meet they feel such a click, that they want to live together all their lives.

The start living together and have some kids. Then somewhere on the road of having and developing a family it goes wrong. Why?

First, I Am Who I Am mentioned humans should understand an adult woman is spiritually, legally, socially and economically equal to an adult man. Children shall be protected. Marriage shall not be done with children, which are under the age of 18 years old. The equality means that with pleasure the woman has as much rights to as man. Adult man should learn to give pleasure to the woman. Interestingly there are no schools to learn about the aspect of a marriage.

Second, when the romantic dream becomes the reality, the legal, economic and social dimension can be leading within the family. Mutual respect between partners (which can be of the same gender to) is the foundation for a live long marriage. Within marriage the partners can honor and keep their connection every day of their married life. Start and end the day with the long kiss good morning and at night before sleep, with a long kiss goodnight. Husband and wife should consider to honor the lust and pleasure for both. This can be in any way humans today know.

Third, today almost 80% of the countries have more females than males. If a man is attracted to another woman.

He can marry her as his second wife and gets her to combine her in his marriage. This is far better than the fear and unhappiness of a divorce. When the household has a spare room the second wife can start to live their. When a man is not able to support his wife with pleasure or economically, the wife to can take another man as the second husband. Life is short.

Fourth, when a female reaches the age where her lust diminishes, the female should consider that her physiology still works, intercourse can be done. Marriage is for life. When a husband or wife dies the female or the male can consider to start a new marriage or not. Humans have free will. When the children have left the home or are adults, many times they judge the new relationship of the father or the mother. I Am Who I Am does not judge any relationship and does not judge marriage. Humans should not do neither.

Fifth, husband and wife may be spiritually together in Heaven when they both have lived according the New Ten Commandments. At death enlightened humans enter The Light. This can be in different times and from different locations. The spirit of a human does not cling to the location of death of the physical body. After a certain time after death the spirit is released from the body into the Light or into darkness of nothing. Within the spiritual world, Heaven, all are assimilated into The One.

The Physical World.

Live Your Life Happy.

Mankind has been Created male and female. The female is equal to the male, spiritually, socially and economically. Life starts when the male sperm fertilizes the female egg and when the female fertilized egg enters the womb. This is the Creation. The Creation took place through evolution in billions of years. Every biological being is created in the same way. A male and a female. Life grows from a newborn to a child to an adult, to a parent en to an elder. I Am who I Am is with you every day, every hour and every minute. Man should not spend its life alone.

No one should interfere with the partner choice of an adult woman or a man. A man can choose a woman. A man can choose a man as his partner. A woman can choose a woman as her partner. Marriage is the preferred state to start a new family. A wedding should be perfect. From marriage partners give their love to each other and to their children. No marriage shall be done before the adult age. Not all in Creation is perfect. Some is complete but not yet perfect. Sometimes the female is not ready to sustain the pregnancy or to give birth.

The female determines to give birth or not. The male must realize fertilizing a female and the birth of his child is for life. When a male is not ready for a child the female decides if she gives birth or not.

If possible a child should grow up with a father and a mother. If a father is not present, the mother can appoint a helping father. In the early years of a child at least one of the parents should be at home. Governments shall create the free possibility for school from 4 years old for all children. The education of children shall be free. A child becomes an adult on the age of 18 years. Children decide the choice for education themselves.

Children shall be educated how to be happy in life. Music, dancing and singing shall be part of the education. Their shall be equality in education. Children shall be safely educated in the freedom of choice, the freedom of worshiping I Am who I Am, the freedom of fear and the freedom of want. Children should be educated in the reality of life and death. From the age of 18 the young adult should volunteer to work one year in social work for the society and get the licenses to be an adult.

This year of social work is paid by the government. Get the drivers license, learn to dance, get an union and political party membership and so on. Every adult shall be free to vote in democratic elections.

Woman and man should adapt a healthy lifestyle. Mankind was created to live a happy and long life. Consider to adapt a lifestyle without drugs, smoking, less alcohol and healthy food. Consider to contribute to a healthy planet. If possible grow your own food and make your own diner. Eat diner with your children. If possible drive electric and generate enough electrical energy from your own home.

Religions shall teach adults about the spiritual realm and the after life. The main purpose of religions is to teach people to pray and to worship I Am who I Am. Religious people, adult woman and man, are free to get a partner and children in their life. Religious people can guide people through their life. I Am who I Am is with a person every day, every hour, every minute and every second.

I Am who I Am strongly opposes the selfish people who abuse, who bully, who create fear, who want to gain more power, who want to make war. They shall be the lesser of less in their life and their after life. The governments of the world shall diminish the fear from this selfish people. If one gets a disease, modern society has a lot op possibilities to cure the disease of make the disease bearable. Unfortunately this is not possible for all diseases. Consider a society in which the children start living with other people when the parents die. Mankind shall not create diseases themselves.

The old age comes with time. Houses should be adapted in which older people can live together with younger people. Loneliness is not meant to be. Governments should give citizens the possibility to stop working in equality. Working should be done for 45 years. The working class thus gets a pension from the age of 60. The higher educated people shall retire from the age of 70. The governments shall establish enough old age pension in which all the working people contribute to pay this pension.

At a certain time the older man or woman has enough of life. Some medicine can make life easier for the older people. But sometimes the burden of life has grown to much. The older woman or man decides themselves when to end his or hers life. This must be in a written letter of consent. In this end of life letter considerations can be made to end the life when disease blurs the mind . Governments should establish honest procedures in order to requested end the life.

The Tree of Good and Evil.

What is good or what is evil? Mankind can do good and build a tree of good, or mankind can do evil and build a tree of evil. Evil is expressed by sin, done by the actions of man.

There is no original sin. Sin is an action against the Ten Commandments. Mortal sins deprive ones soul in life from God. Mortal sins are killing or abusing someone, steeling, not being honest, not considering the other as equal and depriving the other and yourself from essential freedoms. A civilization must border the evil acts of mankind.

There is logic in evolution. The evolution is defined by time, space and gender. Through time the human species came from other species. Life on earth came from bacteria. For an undefined number of years Earth evolved from other planetary systems. Planetary systems evolved from gasses and other matter. Matter consist of molecules, molecules from atoms, atoms from particles, particles from energy.

Something in nature cannot evolve from nothing. There is logic in the creation. God created the beginning of the known existence. From nothing God created energy and the master plan for the Creation. The master plan has to do with evolution. Evolution has to do with the formation, the growth, the completion and the perfection of the creation of a being. A being has matter and space and is subjected to time. A being is born, lives and dies. A being has a limited lifeline.

The Universe was created according to this master plan of the Creation. The creation of the Universe took an unimaginable period of time.

Every being in the Universe has the ability to create. With another being a new being may be formed. A new being has the ability to grow and to complete itself. The Earth is a young planet on which man evolved after same time. Man evolved as a type of mammal with a male and a female gender. The Mammals, including man, have the ability to create another mammal with the intercourse between a man and a woman.

The creation aims for good. Good is done by the individual or by the collective. Individual good is done by good acts. Collective good is established through civilization. Civilization is free will, equality of man, essential freedoms and democracy. Civilization is measured by happiness, the well-being of the individual or the collective.

Everyone is equal to the other, a man is equal to a woman, an adult is not equal to a child. A child should be educated, protected and taken care for. Essential freedoms are freedom of speech and expression, freedom of worshiping God, freedom of want and freedom of fear. There is individual and collective sin. The death penalty must be abandoned. With every innocent death the collective sin rises. Collective sin takes generations to resolve. The religious, the political, the economical and the cultural systems of today do not live up to the standards for a good civilization.

Respect Yourself.

Respect yourself. Respect your body through healthy food, breathing and exercise. Respect your spirit, soul, heart and mind through a balance of freedom and responsibility. Stop any violence towards the other human being. Respect your wife, children and parents. Bring Respect in your marriage. Start a program to bring yourself in a Respectful mode again.

We live in a world without Respect. Many people live in a cocoon with their own view of Good or Evil. This does not create Respect. It creates Hell. Many people emphasize the cocoon of the own group and want to maintain this cocoon by violence. Violence kills Respect. Respect starts with realizing that every human being is different and yet every human being is equal to the other. Every human has physical and psychological borders. Cocoons and borders can change if the change leads to Happiness. Respect brings Happiness.

Equality is the first step to Respect. Realizing of being equal to another human being is what makes people human. In equality, there is no violence. Equality starts with disarmament. Adult women are equal to men.

People of all races and cultures are equal. People with and without disabilities are equal. The gay is equal to the straight. The younger is equal to the older.

The mother judges the rights of the unborn. The family is equal to the single person. The one-parent family is the same as the two-parent family. Smokers are equal to non-smokers. People living on the street are equal to those living in homes.

Every country should have a Constitution. Th Constitution should overwhelm all other Laws of a Country and international treaties. Equality should be the first article of a Constitution. The Constitution should be maintained by an independent Constitutional Court. Capitalism introduced a class system, the lowest class living on the streets, then immigrants, low-paid workers and welfare recipients, the middle class of two earners, the upper class of executives and the highest class of wealthy.

The elderly who receive a pension are now also regarded as the lower class. Governments should decline the in-equality by an equal tax percentage. A live-able country is civilized, safe and secure. Respect starts with maintainable, balanced live-able principles.

Democracy is the foundation of Respect from the people to the President and the Parliament. The parliament enforces the principles through laws. Compliance with the laws is for everyone to have a good life. Then everyone must be able to understand the laws and the principles.

Tell Truth or Be Silent.

I Am Who I Am Created the Creation based upon Honesty. Honesty is the quality of being truthful and fair, which involves telling the truth, acting with integrity, and being free from deceit. It encompasses not only refraining from lying but also avoiding cheating, stealing, and taking advantage of others. Honesty is a key virtue for building trust in relationships and is essential for self-awareness, personal character, and social progress. Be honest and tell the truth or be silent.

I Am Who I Am does not want people to lie. Speak, write and publish the truth. People all over the world receive messages. Many of the messages are of criminals who have killed, abused, stolen and have brought people into slavery. This is propaganda to reach their evil goals and shall not be published.

Truth is the quality of being in accord with fact or reality, meaning a statement is true if it corresponds to what is the case. It is a fundamental concept discussed in many fields, and while its most common definition involves correspondence with an independent reality, other philosophical theories exist, such as those based on coherence within a system of beliefs or practical utility.

This world uncovers new information every day. The reality changes daily.

It reveals itself in new ways, the disciplines of both science and journalism seek functional or pragmatic truth that helps explain the world; information we can act upon every day. And those facts or the statement of "the truth" can be constantly changing. The way that we define scientific truth bores this fact: Scientific truth is a statement of probability proportional to the evidence. It will change over time as the evidence changes.

Humans Create Evil.

Humanity has two ways to create evil, warlords and identity policy. Warlords like to gain power by conquering land and minerals. In do so a warlord needs a priest cult which says it is all right to kill people, to steel their properties, to abuse woman and children from within or outside their tribe. With this the warlord denies the Commands of the One. The identity policy is the foundation for the cancer of communism.

Demonic warlords create autocracy, inequality, war, death, abuse, lies, slavery. Warlords are a threat to humanity in on tribe or country. Humanity shall create mechanisms to ban the warlords. The identity policy replaces the (New) Ten Commandments of The One, thy God, with their own commands.

In this the warlords create an idol cult which denies equality and agrees to go against the Commands of The One for their own purpose. In this identity policy their is a Rule of Law which suits their own purpose. The UN does it, the US Democratic Party does it, the European Union does it. the United Kingdom, Canada and Australia do it. The BRICS states do it. This is the second hell which is created by scientists and scribes.

The identity policy create chaos, dictators, inequality, war, death, abuse, lies, slavery. The identity policy sets up idols like the climate model, the gender ideology, denying fossil fuel and all activism of communist anarchists. The Climate is ruled by Nature and is controlled by volcano outbursts. The gender change ideology is wrong, a human is born male or female.

Prepare for the Afterlife.

I Am who I Am Created mankind as a physical and a spiritual being. At birth I Am Who I Am gives the body a spirit. Birth is the end of the formation of a human. The spirit grows through honesty, love and faith. The human body grows to completion into a perfect young woman or man. The man or woman find a partner, engage in marriage and get or get no kids. A human can reach the age of 110 if they take good care for the body.

Eventually the body dies and the enlighted spirit goes to the Light. The afterlife is the spiritual life of a human after the death of the physical body. If a person has done good and was honest to others and the self, one reaches enlightenment. With enlightenment the spirit of a death person will enter the Light with its spiritual body. A selfish man or woman does not enter the Light. Every human being will die and be Judged by I Am Who I Am on the time of death. The spiritual body enters the Light or fades away into the Darkness.

Mankind has lost the connection to I Am who I Am and does not hear the Voice. Only a few hear the Voice, the Voice to do good and to build spiritual adult. Scientist have reduced the love. hope and mind to physical influences. Being honest and doing good adds spiritual nourishment to the spiritual body. Selfishness declines the spiritual body and creates loneliness. With death a human being can emerge into the Light.

With honesty and doing good a human collects positive elements of spiritual energy. Do not judge the other because mankind does not know what is good or what is evil anymore. For thousands of years I Am Who I Am has given commands to enlarge the spiritual energy. Be honest, do not kill the human being and do not steal ones life or goods. If you are not honest, kill or steal there will be Darkness for your spiritual body.

The spiritual body of a selfish man or woman must help the spiritual life of living humans in order to reach the Light. Those who enter the Darkness will be judged to help the living forever until enough energy has been collected to enter the Light. There are no sexual aspects in the spiritual world.

Religious leaders must teach the people what is truth and what are lies about the spiritual life and the after life. No time has left to do it otherwise. Tell the reality about the afterlife. There is no resurrection of physical bodies. There is no Judgment Day, you're spiritual body will be judged when you die.

Covenant with Israel.

The covenant with the Jews is a central concept in Judaism, representing a special, binding agreement between God and the Jewish people, beginning with Abraham and solidified with Moses at Sinai, where God promised to make Israel His chosen people and, in return, the people promised to follow His laws (mitzvot), including the Ten Commandments, establishing a relationship of mutual loyalty and responsibility for bringing the Messiah and fulfilling God's plan. God never promised the Israelite's that their lives would be free from trouble.

Four hundred years after Abraham, Israel was enslaved to the Egyptians. But God "remembered his covenant with Abraham, with Isaac and with Jacob" (Exodus 2:24). After the Exodus from Egypt, God makes a covenant with Israel at Mount Sinai. Through the mediation of Moses, God enters into a fresh covenant relationship with Israel. This covenant does not supersede the Abrahamic covenant; it elaborates upon it.

The principal stipulations of the covenant are the "ten commandments," which may be seen to follow as consequences of the prologue. For example, one could read it this way: "[because] I am the Lord your God, who brought you out of Egypt…you shall have no other Gods before me…." The commandments are phrased as future indicative verbs, not imperatives. The idea here is that obedience to God should be a natural outworking of gratitude to him for deliverance.

God's covenant with Israel is really the expression of his love for a particular people and his desire to receive their love in return. He binds himself to the destiny of Israel, even though we as a people continue to disobey him. What other leader would continue to reiterate his promises to people who have displayed such a penchant for breaking their word?

The relationship between Judaism and Jesus involves God's everlasting covenant with Israel, initiated with Abraham, which Judaism maintains, while Christianity sees Jesus as fulfilling this covenant and establishing a "new covenant" for all believers (Jews and Gentiles) through his death and resurrection, a concept not accepted by mainstream Judaism. Judaism views Jesus as a historical Jewish figure but not the Messiah or divine, believing the true Messiah will bring a different era of peace, whereas Christians believe Jesus's coming fulfills Old Testament prophecies and offers universal salvation, superseding older rites.

Jesus the Son of Mary.

Jesus, the son of Mary, heard the Voice of God and talked to God. Biblical accounts describe Jesus, the son of Mary, hearing God's voice and speaking with God, most notably at his baptism when a voice from heaven declared, "This is my beloved Son, with whom I am well pleased" (Matthew 3:17), and during his life as he conversed with God in prayer, affirming his unique relationship as the Son of God. These events highlight his divine nature and direct connection with God the Father, reinforcing his role as the Messiah.

I Am Who I Am, The One, God has no gender. Two thousand years ago God mentioned to be The Father and Jesus to be the Son. The relationship of father and son is what humans understand. They demonstrate Jesus's intimate, personal relationship with God, even while on Earth. Jesus's prayer life and his direct communication with God serve as an example for believers to listen to God and live in relationship with Him.

Everyone, female or male can have a personal relationship with and have faith in God. Jesus had a close relationship with faithful Mary Magdalene and 12 male disciples, chosen for their close teaching and mission. But he also had a larger following including 70 other disciples sent out, plus many other followers and women who traveled with him, like Joanna, and Susanna, making his total followers much larger than just the twelve.

The killing of Jesus was an unjust corrupt execution of an innocent man, a political execution based on fabricated charges and religious jealousy. Christians believe it was divinely necessary for humanity's salvation, a sacrifice for sins. From a historical/political view, Roman authorities deemed him a threat to order, leading to his execution as a common criminal for sedition. As a result of this injustice the Roman empire collapsed and the Jews faced almost 2000 years in which the covenant with God was lost.

After Jesus's crucifixion, his body was buried, but Christians believe he was resurrected on the third day, appearing to disciples for 40 days before ascending to heaven, events that empowered his followers, leading to the birth of the Church at Pentecost and the spread of his message globally. After Jesus's crucifixion, Jewish communities faced immense upheaval, initially due to Roman rule in Judea, followed by devastating revolts leading to mass deportations and dispersal, while within Christianity, the false accusation of collective Jewish guilt for decide (killing Jesus) emerged, fueling centuries of persecution and antisemitism, despite modern Church efforts to repudiate it.

No human shall be addressed as god. Jesus was a human, the son of Mary. After the en-lighted Jesus died, the spirit of Jesus went to The Light. God. The One, decides if a spirit is shown to humans or is shown in the spirit of a male or a female. For all times and for all human beings the Commands apply and their shall be no worshiping other than to thy God, The One.

Mary Magdalene, the Wife of Jesus.

Mary was a faithful follower and one of the women who traveled with Jesus and supported his ministry, having been healed of “seven demons”. She was a key eyewitness to Jesus’s death and was the first to see him after his resurrection, earning her the title “apostle to the apostles”. She must have been a woman of some means, she helped provide Jesus and the twelve with material support. The belief that she was a prostitute is a later tradition not supported by the Scripture. It is deemed highly improbable that the Gospels would omit such a central detail, particularly when highlighting her in other roles.

The Western Christian church has said that Mary Magdalene was a prostitute. Shame on this church. This portrayal was largely created by Pope Gregory the Great in 591 AD, who merged the identity of Mary Magdalene with two other women mentioned in the Gospels: the anonymous “sinful woman” who anoints Jesus’ feet (Luke 7) and Mary of Bethany (sister of Martha and Lazarus).

The Eastern Orthodox Christian church has always honored her as an apostle, noting her as the “apostle to the apostles,” based on the account of the Gospel of John which has Jesus calling her by name and telling her to give the news of his resurrection to the other disciples. The non-canonical Gospel of Philip refers to Mary Magdalene as Jesus' koinōnos—a term that translates to partner, associate, or companion.

While intriguing, the term does not necessarily imply a spousal relationship, and the text is too ambiguous to draw definitive conclusions. The Gospel of Philip references Jesus kissing Mary Magdalene, which has fueled speculation about their romantic involvement. Did the idea that Christ had a sexual relationship with Mary Magdalene occur even in ancient times? A papyrus fragment claimed to be very ancient was published in 2012. It was given the suggestive title "Gospel of Jesus' Wife". Believe the scriptures from the past who tell the truth.

The text is written in Coptic, a language of ancient Egypt. In the text, the expressions "my mother" and "my wife" appear in Jesus' mouth. Unfortunately, this fragment is very small (about 8 cm x 3.5 cm) and not a single phrase has been completely preserved. Erase the darkness of the Western Catholic Church who called Mary Magdalene to be a sex worker. Erase the darkness of the Catholic Inquisition to woman. Repent and change the way the Catholic Christians think about celibacy and woman. In faith woman and men are equal.

With the apostles Mary Magdalene was the first the apostle of apostles. I Am Who I Am, The One, thy God, now wants Mary Magdalene to be honored as apostle of apostles by all Christian believers.

Mary Magdalene shall be honored as the companion for life and in death and to be the Wife of Jesus. The Gospel was spread by Mary Magdalene first. The celibacy of Roman Catholic priests, from which much abuse comes from, must be abandoned. The New Testament shall be rewritten from the faith and life of Mary Magdalene being the companion and wife of Jesus.

The End of Days.

Judgment Day is Done. The world has been separated into antisemitics and believers. With the identity policy of the United Nations (UN) the Antichrist has come. The antichrist is not a person, it are the humans who worship the identity policy. The goal of the communistic UN and the EU is to establish a global dictatorship. I Am Who I Am interferes. The Earth shakes and crumbles. Countries and Continents will split. The End of Days has come.

The start of the “End of Days” refers to a period of significant events, including a time of tribulation and signs in the heavens and earth, that will precede the final judgment.

God will open the books, including the “Book of Life,” which will contain all the works and actions of people. Each person will be judged based on their actions and their faith, and their eternal destiny will be determined. Those not found in the Book of Life or who do not pass judgment will be condemned to the “lake of fire,” while those who are will inherit eternal life.

The Antichrist is a figure in Christian eschatology, a powerful adversary who opposes Jesus Christ and his teachings, and is often associated with the end times. While the term can refer to a single, final individual, it also describes a spirit or a multiplicity of individuals who deny Jesus or persecute his followers. Interpretations vary, but the concept originates from Jewish tradition, appears in early Christian writings, and has been applied historically to various figures and systems of oppression.

The Antichrist’s goal, according to Christian prophecy, is to establish a global dictatorship and demand worship them as god, opposing and persecuting anyone who does not submit to him. This involves deceiving people with false signs, establishing a one-world government, persecuting Christians and others who resist, and demanding a mark of allegiance to control his subjects. Their ultimate aim is to delete God and steal the worship due only to the Divine.

People who collaborate in the identity policy have declined the Christian commands, do not kill, do not steal, do not abuse, do not lie and do not enslave. The identifiers speak loudly their own good and wrong, good is if you adopt the identity policy and wrong are the Christian commands. Every Christian, all Christian religions shall work together to return to I Am Who I Am.

Jesus, son of Mary was a human prophet who told the truth about the aspects of the Spiritual World and The Father, I Am Who I Am. Both the Catholic Christians and the Orthodox Christians shall renew their faith in the Commands I Am Who I Am have given, do not worship idols, do not kill, do not steal, do not abuse, do not lie and do not enslave. A religion may have a hierarchy and may have beautiful objects.

The conflict of Luther which established the Protestant Christians, with the Catholic Church had to do with giving money for building the Saint Peter in Rome. Many Protestant Christians deny the right of Israel to defend itself against the Muslim terrorists (Iran, Hezbollah, Hamas and Houties). Israel was the first tribe and country with which Am Who I Am, The One, made a covenant. The Protestants shall renew their faith and not cling to idols like antisemitism and pro-Hamas.

I Am Who I Am, I Am That I Am, The One, God interferes.

Everyone who worships the Antichrist and greed shall perish. The culture of the self declared gods of the Ayatollahs in Iran will perish through drought. The Lebanon Hezbollah will be disarmed or killed, Hamas has been defeated by Israel. A tsunami established by a volcano eruption will flood the Hamas tunnels. The outburst of a volcanic eruption in Africa which erupted since 12.000 years has flown over Yemen (Houties).

Thy God wants Democracy.

Democracy and Christianity are compatible. This means that these are not contradictory ideas. Democracy functions most effectively in a Christian culture. Democracy is not necessarily a Christian form of government. There is no necessary aspect of democracy that absolutely requires a Christian worldview. Christianity itself does not mandate democracy or any other form of earthly government. Democracy can be a Christian form of government, and it is probably best supported by a Christian culture, but it is not the only valid form of Christian government, and democracy can exist apart from a Christian worldview. Politics and religion share overlapping interests. Every law is based on moral principles of honesty. Be honest to God in not worship other self declared gods.

Be honest to the other human and yourself. The principles in a democracy usually are do not kill another human being or yourself, do not steal from the other, do not abuse the other, do not lie or cheat and do not enslave or be enslaved.

The Human World will be Democratic or will not be.

Politics in general is a discussion about how much control, freedom, and power individual people should have and to what extent they should be forced to act alike. This is an important detail: religion and politics partially overlap, but they are not the same thing. Just as some senses overlap, such as smell and taste or hearing and touch, politics and religion inevitably cross paths. But they are not the same.

The only purpose of religion is to teach humans about I Am Who I Am, the Commands, God's World and God's Earth. The purpose of politics is to maintain the Commands of The One, God and to bring democracy, liberty , freedoms, happiness and prosperity to the people. Now this is the verdict of I Am Who I Am. The human world will be democratic or will not be.

The United Nations is a supranational dictator.

The World is in chaos. In many countries the citizens no longer are represented by their government. I Am Who I Am considers democracy the way to install the Honest World. From chaos civilian war may rise. In order to bring PEACE and DEMOCRACY to the world I Am Who I Am, The One, God, herewith proposes the Universal Declaration of Democracy.

The majority members of the United Nations consist of dictators. For this reason the United Nations no longer can dictate international law. The international law today benefits antisemitism, communism and dictators. The United Nations have shown to emphasize to benefit immigrants above citizens. This point of view created chaos in the democratic world. Communist protesters use all kind of lies to dictate the communist point of view of the United Nations.

The Universal Declaration of Democracy shall be executed by the Free Nations organization for the human world. The United Nations has become a supranational dictator through antisemitism and communism. The Free Nations will replace the communist and antisemitic United Nations and all their organizations. All workers at the United Nations who have expressed antisemitism and communism must be fired.

The Universal Declaration of Democracy.

1. The Nation State is the Sovereign Entity of Democracy

2. The Democratic Nation is powered by honesty.

3. Any citizen within a democratic Nation has the right to public documents.

4. Any citizen has the right to public healthcare

5. Any citizen has the right to free public education

6. Any citizen has the right to a home.

7. Any citizen has the right to live and self defense.

8. Each citizen will pay an equal percentage taxes.

9. Any citizen of the Nation can choose the President and the Representatives.

10. Any citizen can be elected to be a President or a Representative.

11. The Representative shall have no private interference with the public function.

12. The elections will be free, secret and without disturbance

13. There will be no limits in the freedom of speech of citizen.

14. There will be equality between adult man and woman.

15. The children will be protected, at home, at school and in the environment.

16. No one shall interfere with the private life.

17. No one shall interfere with the honest business life.

18. In a democratic Nation the Referendum gives the decision on a question once.

19. In a democratic Nation the Rule of Law will apply.

20. The media shall not judge a person.

21. The democratic Nation will have a Constitution.

22. The executive, legislative, and judicial powers will be separate.

23. The Constitutional Court will uphold the Constitution.

24. A President in the democratic State will be chosen by the citizens.

25. A chosen President will reign for a maximum of 10 years.

26. A head of state which is not chosen shall not be called a President.

27. In a democratic State a head of state can hereditary to have a ceremonial function

28. Only a referendum will decide if the democratic Nation joins a Union.

29. An immigrant will become a citizen after being 5 years in the Nation.

30. An immigrant shall be speaking and writing the language of the Nation.

31. An immigrant shall be integrated in the culture of the Nation.

32. An immigrant who commits a crime shall not be a citizen.

33. The executive force may be formed by coalition within 6 months after the election.

34. After 6 months the executive force shall be formed by numeration.

35. No one shall bear arms without license.

Democracy applies the Rule of Law. This includes accountability (government officials and citizens are subject to the law), just laws (clear, stable, fair, and publicized laws protecting rights), open government (transparent, accessible, and efficient law-making/enforcement), and accessible, impartial justice (independent courts and fair processes). Key principles involve equality before the law, separation of powers, and constraints on arbitrary government power to ensure fairness and prevent abuse.

The Cancer of Communism.

Communism is a cancer, and it always produces the same results: oppression, suffering, and death. We must teach the next generation the threat communism poses to liberty and justice around the world. Communism always evolves the same way. Always communism wants to extend their territory, wants to steal elements and food and is antisemitic. Communism extents the value of economical goods only to serve the system. Communists have turned away from God and the Commands.

The communist media acts like a betrayer. Perceived bias, sensationalism, selective framing, or a focus on negativity, leading audiences to feel manipulated or that truth is distorted, with examples ranging from political coverage (hero/traitor framing) to corporate ownership influencing narratives, all eroding public trust in journalism's objectivity. This perception is heightened when news focuses on conflict, uses anonymous sources, or prioritizes clicks over depth, making audiences feel the media serves agendas rather than the public interest. In a democratic nation the rule of law applies. There is no judgment and their shall be no media judgment until the judge from the legislating force has spoken. The executing force shall ensure fair and honest trial without the judgment of the media.

Once communist gets control of the information and after that the economy and turns to be a dictator. The dictator eliminates the free people and the liberty. The result is repression with death, stealing, lies, a cheating media, enslaving the people and creating self declared and worshiping gods.

Communism has many names like socialism, anarchism and extreme activism. Communism evolved from early ideas of collective ownership to various schools like Marxism-Leninism, Maoism, Trotsky-ism, and Anarchy-communism, reflecting different interpretations of Karl Marx's theories and practical implementations in nations like China, Cuba, and Vietnam, often blending with nationalism or differing from Soviet models, resulting in diverse ideologies like libertarian communism, religious communism, or national communism.

Today religious communism is shown with the Islamist's of Iran, Afghanistan and the world. With the merger of religious and political communism the equality between man and woman has been replaced by the equality of the labors. But the corrupt leaders are always far above the labor workers who have been enslaved until death. The Christian persecution in Africa is a serious and growing problem, especially in countries like Nigeria. where violence by extremist religious communist groups and inter tribal conflicts are increasing. Government pressure is forcing Christians underground. African countries dominate the rankings for Christian persecution, with high levels of violence, discrimination, and human rights violations. The persecution targets the expression of faith, possession of a Bible, and church services, and leads to attacks, kidnappings, violence against women and children, and forced conversions.

The communist value theory, primarily the Labor Theory of Value from Marxism, states a commodity's value comes from the "socially necessary labor time" to produce it, not supply/demand, with labor being the source of all wealth. Capitalism exploits this by extracting "surplus value," the unpaid labor, creating inequality, which communists aim to abolish for communal ownership where value serves the community, not private profit. Today the Labor Value Theory is expanded to the climate, to the nature and to the fossil fuels.

Communism, the cancer for the world can effectively be cured in withdrawing the money flow(blood) from it and to replace their propaganda by the truth, media and science. Science shall be freed from the dictators who dictate only one argument. Teachers shall be dismissed if they propagate the communist identity policy or abuse children by the disfigure boys. Propaganda shall be replaced by the truth. The media shall not emphasize the warlords as good.

The Revelation Prophecy is Now.

The conclusion of the prophecy in the Book of Revelation is the ultimate victory over evil, the final judgment, and the creation of a renewed cosmos. This site gives you the insight in order to reset towards a fair and righteous world with the New Ten Commandments.

The Revelation Prophecy speaks of the Lion and the Lamb. The Lamb opens the seven seals of the hidden scroll. With opening the seals some colored horses appear with which some phenomena in nature happen. The Lion will dominate the world and bring evil to their knees. The loudly roaring Lion is President Trump. The silent Lamb the prophet who wrote this site.

In the Revelation Prophecy the Lamb opens the seven seals. Consider the vision of the Messenger about the mistakes mankind made to not understand the characteristics of I Am Who I Am. I Am Who I Am is not limited by time, name, gender, place, language, shape and objects. Humans are limited by time, name, gender, place, language, shape and objects.

These are seven characteristics and are the seven seals. Mankind must know its limitations. The seals are time, name, gender, place, language, shape and objects. We open the seals here and now. The Creation did not begin with the creation of the heavens and earth. It started with the creation of time. I Am Who I Am exists and has no name. Humans name everything do not do that with your God.

I Am Who I Am is not a big man in the sky. Thy God has no gender. A human is a male or a female. I Am Who I Am is everywhere. The location of I Am Who I Am is all around you, in everything. I Am Who I Am has no shape. I Am Who I Am is like air, you do not see thy God. I Am Who i Am is The One, the God is not separated into objects. I Am Who I Am speaks your language. The angels from the history are manifestations of The One for humans to understand the spiritual world.

How to recognize the Voice of thy God? The Voice speaks to you in your mind. It may be night. It may be day. Always the Voice speaks about aspects of the New Ten Commandments. The Voice never speaks to you in order to violate the New Ten Commandments. The Voice does not urge you to make idols, to murder, to steal, to abuse or to addict yourself or others. I Am Who I Am interferes when you worship idols.

What are called jinn are voices from the spiritual world. The Voice of I Am Who I Am or helping voices from not enlightened souls.. When people die who acted against the New Ten Commandments their soul remains on earth and may help the living people to reach enlightenment. Souls who are in darkness never reach enlightenment and will need human objects (money) but create hell by making idols, murder, abusing, or stealing.

By taking and opening the scroll's seals, the Lamb initiates the unfolding of God's final purposes and justice on earth. The purpose for mankind in this site is clear. A human receives a clear soul at birth. During his life the human soul grows to enlightenment by love, hope and faith. Faith in I Am Who I Am. And doing no actions against the New Ten Commandments.

The Revelation speaks about horses and their riders. Some events came forth in the past seven years in which the seals were opened. The world had their world wide problems. The corona crisis from the red China started in 2019 and killed over 7 million people. The fooling of the US people with the presidential election without ID in 2020, white hair Joe Biden became President. The result was Russia Ukraine war, Hamas massacre Israel, worldwide antisemitism. The black war of Russia with Ukraine started in 2022 and killed almost 2 million people.

The enormous gray volcano eruption at Hunga Tonga in 2022 with its stratosphere consequences in 2023 did not fall into the UN climate model. The Lamb cannot place the opening of the seals directly to the world wide problems, because no record has been made when the seals were opened. The seals first were mentioned in headlines, later in detail.

I Am Who I Am Loves Marriage.

I Am Who I Am is The One, is the Spiritual World. One of the characteristics of the Spiritual World is the lack of gender. The gender, female and male, are within the biological world, part of the Physical world. A human adult female or an adult male are the ones that can start marriage and make children. I Am Who I Am loves marriage and would like it to be for life. I Am Who I Am, thy God, will not judge when humans commit in marriage. When thy God does not judge humans should not never judge a relationship or marriage either.

It was written before. "Therefore a man will leave his father and his mother, and will join with his wife, and they will be one flesh. The man and his wife were both naked, and they were not ashamed". Notice those last three words: not ashamed. In God's original design, sexual union between a man and his wife carried no guilt.

Sex has no awkwardness, no hiding. It was an expression of total vulnerability and total trust. Two people fully known each other and fully loved. That is what God says about sex at its foundation: it is a gift meant to be unwrapped in the safety of a covenant love. The Hebrew phrase “one flesh” encompasses physical, emotional, and spiritual unity. Sex in marriage is a living picture of two lives woven together by I Am Who I Am.

Biblical marriage evolved significantly across Scripture, from patriarchal arrangements in the Old Testament to New Testament teachings of mutual submission and sacrificial love. Marriage in the Bible functioned primarily as a covenant with legal, economic, and social dimensions rather than the romantic relationship often portrayed in modern contexts. I Am Who I Am now wants marriage to be from free will and from the own decision of the partners. No one shall judge a marriage. If by accident a child younger than 18 years gets pregnant, the man must take care for her for life, he shall not divorce.

The Books present marriage less as a romantic relationship and more as a socioeconomic arrangement ensuring tribal continuity, property rights, and family stability. Polygamy (one man, multiple wives) appears repeatedly in the Bible without explicit condemnation. Abraham, Jacob, David, and Solomon all practiced polygamy, though the narratives often show the relational dysfunction that resulted. Levi-rate marriage required a man to marry his brother's childless widow to maintain the family line.

I Am Who I Am notices many troubles with the connection of females with males in marriage. First woman today only marry from a romantic dream. Females should feel a click in order to mate with a man. And once married, males lose their attraction to females. Around 2.5% people divorce each year, giving pain, sorrow and fear for the future. Many people live apart from each other after a marriage. Nowadays one third of the families is single parent or a single without children.

Today nudity is no longer to be ashamed for. In private wellness centers adults can swim naked. I Am Who I Am advises for nudity not to be in public but in private. Young children who attend the primary school should be learned at home not to be ashamed of nudity. In primary schools children are too young to learn about their gender. In order to have a marriage for the rest of your life, you need to take care for your health first. Try to be without addiction. Addictions are for selfish people. When you want a life long marriage you should lost your addictions.

I Am Who I Am likes to play with time and location in order to bring people together at the same time from different locations into one place.

People may experience a click with another human. This is not a miracle, it is I Am Who I Am who does the work. I Am Who I Am, thy God, like to see people happy. A man and a woman can come together at a certain time, in a certain place and be together for the rest of their life. I Am Who I Am wants a new world based upon the New Ten Commandments in which humans have pleasure, peace and happiness. I Am Who I Am loves marriage and has some advises for humans to develop their marriage into a live long connection. When a male and a female meet they feel such a click, that they want to live together all their lives. The start living together and have some kids. Then somewhere on the road of having and developing a family it goes wrong. Why?

First, I Am Who I Am mentioned humans should understand an adult woman is spiritually, legally, socially and economically equal to an adult man. Children shall be protected. Marriage shall not be done with children, which are under the age of 18 years old. The equality means that with pleasure the woman has as much rights to as man. Adult man should learn to give pleasure to the woman. Interestingly there are no schools to learn about the aspect of a marriage.

Second, when the romantic dream becomes the reality, the legal, economic and social dimension can be leading within the family.

Mutual respect between partners (which can be of the same gender to) is the foundation for a live long marriage. Within marriage the partners can honor and keep their connection every day of their married life. Start and end the day with the long kiss good morning and at night before sleep, with a long kiss goodnight. Husband and wife should consider to honor the lust and pleasure for both. This can be in any way humans today know.

Third, today almost 80% of the countries have more females than males. If a man is attracted to another woman. He can marry her as his second wife and gets her to combine her in his marriage. This is far better than the fear and unhappiness of a divorce. When the household has a spare room the second wife can start to live their. When a man is not able to support his wife with pleasure or economically, the wife to can take another man as the second husband. Life is short.

Fourth, when a female reaches the age where her lust diminishes, the female should consider that her physiology still works, intercourse can be done. Marriage is for life. When a husband or wife dies the female or the male can consider to start a new marriage or not. Humans have free will. When the children have left the home or are adults, many times they judge the new relationship of the father or the mother. I Am Who I Am does not judge any relationship and does not judge marriage.

Fifth, husband and wife may be spiritually together in Heaven when they both have lived according the New Ten Commandments. At death enlightened humans enter The Light. This can be in different times and from different locations. The spirit of a human does not cling to the location of death of the physical body. After a certain time after death the spirit is released from the body into the Light or into darkness of nothing. Within the spiritual world, Heaven, all are assimilated into The One.

On Private or Collective Sin.

Chaos in the world is increasing. This will continue for the next three years. I Am Who I Am has given a message regarding personal or collective sin and how to address it. The democratic world shall maintain the old Ten Commandments and the New Ten Commandments. I Am Who I Am mandates the death penalty for proven murder. No human shall interfere with the lifeline of another human. There are no circumstantial aspects for the personal of collective aberration of the Ten Commandments.

Personal sin and collective sin represent two distinct ways of understanding moral guilt, responsibility, and the consequences of wrongdoing for communities.

In the New World, personal sin occurs when an individual commits an act that violates the New Ten Commandments. In the New World, collective sin occurs when a group of people commits an act that violates the New Ten Commandments.

A sin is not committed through thoughts, but solely through actions. The New Ten Commandments are the means by which I Am Who I Am will establish the New World. Repent, for the New World is at hand. Anyone who acts against the New Ten Commandments will feel the wrath of I Am Who I Am. I Am Who I Am has had enough of human passions that lead to hatred, murder, and war. I Am Who I Am intends to improve legal systems to shift global ethics toward peace, hope, and happiness.

Anyone who commits a proven murder shall be put to death. I Am Who I Am requires that the death penalty be carried out in public. The public must understand that I Am Who I Am does not permit any human being to interfere with the life of another human. Women and children, in particular, are to be protected. If a young man or an adult woman kills a child or a woman, the perpetrator's family shall be immediately deported to their country of origin. Anyone who mistreats or causes harm to another human being will be held accountable. Bullying is also considered a form of causing harm.

If the perpetrator is a minor, their family shall be required to pay double the value of the damages, and the minor shall be detained for the purpose of rehabilitation. Furthermore, they shall be required to perform public service until their twenty-first birthday. Anyone who steals an object must return the stolen item and provide compensation equal to twice the value of the loss. If the thief is a minor, the family shall be held liable for the theft and the resulting damages; all family members shall be required to contribute twice the amount of the damages.

If a group of people denies "I Am That I Am" and instead worships idols or other objects, that group shall incur the wrath of "I Am That I Am." Their lineage shall be brought to an end. "I Am That I Am" loves those who worship Me; however, the worship of inanimate objects is forbidden. Such acts are futile and disrespectful toward "I Am That I Am." If a group of people fails to respect the citizens of a nation, the citizens of that nation shall, in turn, withhold respect from that group. Such a group shall be subjected to forced servitude. If a group of people murders citizens of a democratic nation, the members of that group shall be arrested and put to death—regardless of whether they are minors. The nation shall employ lethal force, specifically through its military, to protect its citizens.

If a group of people mistreats citizens—or, worse, abuses children or women—the nation may deploy lethal military force to restore peace. Any nation is permitted to defend itself, using lethal force if necessary, against internal or external threats posed by demonic forces. A demonic force today can be communist, Islamist, or of some other nature, as explained in the chapter 'On the Origin of Demons'. The media can amplify demonic activities. If they do so without verifying the source of an article, such articles should be boycotted—first for one day, then, if it happens again, for three days, followed by a week, and subsequently for a month. Demons use the media to fuel their hatred, abuse, theft, chaos, murder, and war. Put an end to this.

Ask for Miracles. Have Faith.

Many people desire miracles from God. They want God to perform miracles to “prove” God to them. “If only God would perform a miracle, sign, or wonder, then I would believe!” This idea, though, is contradicted by Scripture. When God performed amazing and powerful miracles for the Israelite, did that cause them to obey Him? No, the Israelite constantly disobeyed and rebelled against God even though they saw all the miracles.

The same people who saw God part the Reed Sea later doubted whether God was able to conquer the inhabitants of the Promised Land. The miracles in the Old Testament are executed using the forces and powers of nature. Old Testament miracles are direct acts of divine power that often display God's sovereign control over nature rather than natural forces acting on their own. While God sometimes used natural elements—like wind or earthquakes—their timing, scale, and purpose transcend ordinary physical laws. That may be proved with the outburst of a volcano at the time Moses led the Israelite out of Egypt. Moses led the Israelite out of Egypt around the 15th century BC. The volcano outburst or other occurred around 1620–1600 BC, blowing apart the original round island and forming the iconic giant caldera.

The miracles in the New Testament are concerning the health of individuals and controlling nature. While many New Testament miracles involve physical healing and exorcisms—such as curing blindness, leprosy, paralysis, and fever—they are not exclusively about individual health. Jesus and the Apostles also performed nature miracles, such as turning water into wine, calming a storm, walking on water, and multiplying loaves and fish.

God still performs miracles today, though Christian traditions hold different views on how and when He does so. Many believe God actively intervenes through dramatic events, unexplained healing, and answered prayers, while others distinguish between God's sovereign power and the specific apostolic sign gifts of the early Bible era. Nowadays. a miracle does not have the purpose to give faith to the people. This is futile. Miracles are not meant to create or force faith. Instead, theological tradition views them as expressions of divine compassion, signs of God’s active presence, or confirmations of a message already grounded in truth, rather than tools to convert or convince skeptics.

Only people who have faith and have followed the New Ten Commandments may pray for a miracle. You must get rid of your addictions and illegal objects of worship. Do not have any idols in your home. Stop your addictions. For personal health God helped scientist and doctors to understand the mechanisms of health. People now know that avoiding addiction and living healthily prolongs life. Chronic opioid use can result in neurobiological changes that lead to increases in negative effective states, jointly contributing to suicide risk and continued opioid use.

Severe alcohol use disorder shortens life expectancy by 24 to 28 years. Individuals with chronic dependency face a drastically higher risk of fatal complications like liver cirrhosis, cardiovascular disease, and cancer, with hospitalized patients often averaging an age of 47 to 58 at death. Smoking significantly raises your risk of cancer and many other chronic health conditions, though not every smoker will develop cancer. Tobacco use shortens average life expectancy by about 10 to 15 years and causes damage to nearly every organ in the body.

I Am Who I Am likes to play with time and location in order to bring people together at the same time from different locations into one place. People may experience a click with another human. This is not a miracle, it is I Am Who I Am who does the work. I Am Who I Am, thy God, like to see people happy. A man and a woman can come together at a certain time, in a certain place.

About Life to Death.

I Am Who I Am, The One, the spiritual world, has no limits. There are no limits in time, name, place, language, gender, shape or objects. Living humans need and are limited by time, name, place, language, gender, shape or objects. This is the basic principle and the difference between life of a human and their death. Life is limited.

With death a soul is in the unlimited realm of the spiritual world. Biologically, human life begins at fertilization. The conception starts when a sperm and egg fuse to form a unique, single-celled zygote, while social, legal, and cultural definitions of person hood vary widely from implantation to birth.

Spiritually a human life starts when a new human is born. At birth the new human, a girl or a boy is given a soul. The birth ends the formation stage of a human being. The formation of a human starts when a male sperm fertilizes a female egg. From birth the human grows to completion from an infant to a toddler, to an adolescent to an adult. Above 65 years an adult enters the old age. Normally from the old age an adult will reach the end of life.

I Am Who I Am loves marriage. If a man makes a female pregnant the man should leave the parents house and marry the female. Marriage is not only for a man and a woman. The human chooses their partners for life themselves. In marriage the parents are responsible for their child during their lifespan. Adults who feel fulfilled by their lives, either through a successful family or a meaningful career or otherwise reach ego integrity, in which they can face aging and dying with peace. If older adults don't feel that they've lived a good life, they risk falling into despair.

When a human experiences the end of life, the soul discovers the spiritual world. All humans have a biological life with a limited time, we call this the human lifespan. A human dies by age, by illness, by medicine, by themselves or by another human being. The death by another human being is murder, no mater it is with a gun, a car, medicine or any other means. There is no difference in choosing your own end of life or enduring pain towards the end of life. When a human dies, the soul discovers the spiritual world which has no limits.

The human soul of a death body is free of limits. A human soul who is killed by another human being is free of place, time and language. It can connect to another human anywhere on this earth in order to solve the crime which stopped their lifespan. The soul works on the mind and heart of other human beings. Normally the place of a soul is near the death body. A soul is embraces by the spiritual world and does not have a name and no gender anymore. A soul does not need objects like money. The soul of a death human enters The Light or vanished into darkness. A soul notices the body died. When the body is buried, cremated, decomposed to give the organs to a living human or otherwise, the soul leaves the body. When the soul has grown to enlightenment by having faith in The One, by keeping the New Ten Commandments the soul may enter the Light of peace and well being.

When the soul does not recognize The Light because of a selfish life and not having faith the soul will fade out into darkness. Incomplete enlighted souls will act as guardian angels. A soul may not be ready to enter The Light and may not be touched by darkness. Then the soul helps living people to the path of enlightenment and protects the people. This may take a thousand human years but for the soul in the spiritual world time is without limit. The guardian angel may show themselves as your parent, because their shape is unlimited. The guardian angels knows it has no gender but may help living people with their connection to other humans.

Dark souls without faith of death humans fade away into darkness. Dark souls who do not have faith in The One want to be memorized in history. From the New World the dark spirits no longer have a soul. Humans with a dark soul use statues, media and the written history to be remembered. A dark spirit may be upheavaled to a demon. A demon uses speech and images to get followers. At the burial of a demon the followers express their hate, use evil mechanism to worship the demon and shout their wish to murder faith.

Abandon Evil.

What was, and is, evil? Humans create hell for other humans by evil. If you look at the historical record, you see idols, war, murder, violence, and hatred. These human manifestations are evil. The kind of evil that leaves you uncertain whether you will still be alive tomorrow. It is the fear that your own life or the lives of your family or acquaintances might be severed from the future. That is evil. You can decide for yourself which ideologies form the foundation for such evil; it has remained the same for centuries.

Evil is any act against the New Ten Commandments. The New Ten Commandments are a clear definition of good. Evil is when you go against the New Ten Commandments. All humans who defy the existence of God violate the first command. Humans who worship any dead object do not receive an answer. All humans who gave Me a name or made an object of Me do not understand My nature. For humans towards other humans, you shall not murder, you shall not lie, you shall not steal, you shall not abuse and you shall not addict.

Humans who act against the New Ten Commands are demons. These selfish people want other humans to uplift them to become great, even greater than Me.

Today communist, Islamists and Nazis are the demons who want to kill, abuse, steal and addict in order to gain more power. The demons are uplifted today to be a communist President. Evil is using democracy to gain power. Do not let evil people enter the Parliament. Therefore, those on the voting list who want to destroy the country should not be part of Parliament or the government. Officials will verify the credentials of all Members of Parliament in a democratic country.

Evil is using the media to enhance their power. Even if is not the truth. The truth shall clear the world of antisemitism, hatred and war. The media shall not publish the propaganda of terrorists and demons. The media shall report both sides if the story is true. Truth shall concur propaganda.

Thy God Created The Earth.

In the beginning God created time, the heavens and the earth. Now the earth was formless and void, and darkness was over the surface of the deep. And the Spirit of God was hovering over the surface of the waters.

The wonderful creation of the heavens, the atmosphere which is above us and how the world below interacts with the atmosphere. Because God created time the creation is not limited by time.

The Earth evolved in billion of years through evolution and the principles of Creation. The crust of the earth is constantly moving. Continental plates shift over and under each other creating volcanic eruptions which interact with the atmosphere and create the climate. There is a chemical impact of volcanic eruptions on the climate.

The climate on earth varies across the continents and oceans through the seasons. The variation of temperature gives winds and oceanic streams. This induces the weather with high and low pressures. The eruption of the Hunga Tonga-Hunga Ha'apai volcano sent enough water vapor into the stratosphere to cause a rapid change in the chemistry of the stratosphere. The sun is warmer then ever. The temperature of the ocean increases. Storms are more violent en rain is falling massively.

The eruption of the Hunga Tonga-Hunga Ha'apai volcano on January 15, 2022, produced the largest underwater explosion ever recorded by modern scientific instruments, blasting an enormous amount of water and volcanic gases higher than any other eruption in the satellite era. This eruption will change the weather and the climate for decades. It is not a carbon dioxide what changes the climate, the increase is a result of the rise of temperature. The carbon dioxide prophets are false.

Have Faith.

That is all that matters.

Thy God invites you to embrace faith, God's presence, and a spiritual way of life guided by God's principles. Enter the realm of spiritual honesty, truth, divine love, and eternal hope and a deep commitment to God's Spirit. And Believe.